Decision in the Mordaunt Divorce Case—Formidable Fenian Plot Discovered—Virulent Criticism of "Lothair"—Mr. Gladstone Attends the Derby—The Spanish Throne Controversy—Cuban Insurgent Officers Pleading for Mercy—Split in the Left Centre of French Legislature—Serious Crisis in the Argentine Republic—Republican Demonstrations in Italy.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, June 2.—The long contested Mordaunt divorce case, involving the question whether Sir Charles could prosecute a divorce suit notwithstanding the insanity of Lady Mordaunt, was decided against Sir Charles. He will appeal to the House of Lords.

The decision of the appeal of the plaintiff in the Mordaunt divorce case to-day was rendered by Lord Pensance and Justices Kelly and Keating. The court held that owing to the continued insanity of Lady Mordaunt, she is in no condition to make a legal reply, and therefore the proceedings for divorce can be carried no further.

The police have discovered a formidable Fenian plot to simultaneously attack several arsenals and armories, and pillage them of their contents, war material, &c. The precautionary measures by the authorities have stopped the scheme.

A virulent criticism appears in Blackwood on Disraeli's Lothair. The article puzzles the politicians. Many think the tories have taken this course to shelve him.

The alleged Fenian emissaries, Wilson and Davitt, were brought up for examination to-day. A great crowd occupied the court room and manifested sympathy for the prisoners in an unmistakable manner. Unusual precautions had been taken by the police and no disturbance took place. Nothing of importance was elicited at the examination. Bail was offered but refused, and the men were remanded to jail.

Among the distinguished persons who attended the Derby races yesterday was Mr. Gladstone. The Daily Telegraph has some droll comments on the circumstance.

Dispatches from India mention an alarming outbreak of cholera in Rewah, in the Bengal presidency.

SPAIN.

MADRID, June 2.—The adherents of Espartero have issued a circular favoring his election to the throne.

On Monday next the Cortes will commence to discuss the question of filling the throne, with the purpose of reaching a final solution. The partizans of Montpensier are very zealous and active, and have great hopes of securing his nomination. The Republican journals are extremely bitter against him. They declare the country is in danger when such a name is proposed in connection with the crown, and urge unrelenting war against Frenchmen as they term the Duke. As the day for debate approaches the agitation grows deeper.

Dispatches have been received at the Colonial Ministry, from Capt. Gen. DeRodas, informing the Government that the insurgent Generals in Cuba offer to surrender on condition that their lives and property be spared, and asking for instructions. The Government has replied that it is their desire that rebel officers really desiring to give up the contest and to be reconciled to Spain, be dealt with generously.

FRANCE.

PARIS, June 2.—A split occurred to-day in the Left Centre of the Corps Legislatif. Before the commencement of to-day's sitting fifteen members of that portion of the chamber held a conference and adopted a resolution to vote against the ministry whenever its action was not in accordance with their programme. The President and Secretary of the Left Centre are reported included in the new party.

The proprietor of the Marseillaise, though the journal is now suspended, has received an additional sentence of 2,000 francs fine and three months' imprisonment for articles published in the last number.

The Emperor held a grand review of cavalry to-day at Long Champs. An immense number of people from the city and surrounding country witnessed the spectacle.

SOUTH AMERICA.

LISBON, June 2.—The Royal mail steamer has arrived with advices confirming the report that the Argentine Republic had declared war on the rebels under Lopez Jordan. Many are flocking to Jordan's standard and it is thought that a decisive battle will soon be fought. The society of Montevideo are fearfully demoralized and a reign of terror prevails. Affairs are rapidly approaching a crisis.

Later dates from Rio Janeiro state the Argentine Republic declined to recognize Gen. Jordan and a force had been sent against his followers, on account of the assassination of Urquiza.

ITALY.

ROME, June 2.—The Pope declines on any pretence to delay the deliberations of the Council. He even urges industry on the part of the Fathers, and has suggested that the daily meetings begin at an earlier hour than before.

PARIS, June 2.—It is rumored that formidable Republican demonstrations were made at both ends of Italy. A force on the Swiss border seems to be acting in concert with the insurgents. It is said that twenty-five Greek brigands recently landed at Terra de Kavoro and joined the insurrectionists.

THE INDIANS.

Reports of Their Being on the War Path—The Situation at Fort Buford.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, June 2.—A communication received at military headquarters in this city to-day, from Col. Morrow, who commands the military forces at Fort Buford, Dakota Territory, states that war upon the whites had been openly declared by the Indians in that vicinity, and they were undoubtedly preparing to make an attack upon Fort Buford in strong force. The Indian warriors thereabouts, who are Sioux, number from three hundred to five hundred while Colonel Morrow had but fifty men ready for service; yet with even that disparity of numbers, he felt confident that he could successfully resist any attack which the Indians might make, and also protect his herds of stock, etc. He had sent out ten friendly Indians to reconnoitre, who met what was supposed to be the advance guard of the hostile band, and were driven back. All of the Colonel's scouts seemed confident of a speedy fight, but no fear was felt as to the result.

Fort Buford has for some time been garrisoned nominally by two companies, under command of Colonel Morrow, but at last accounts two companies of the Seventh Regiment were en route for that post to take the place of others. It is expected that Lieutenant-General Sheridan has reached Fort Buford by this time.

Meeting of Israelites.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 2.—At a meeting of Israelites of this city to-night the following resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS, The harrowing news of the massacre of the Jews in Roumania has reached us.

Resolved, Our hearts are filled with sorrow at the dreadful barbarities committed by people said to be civilized and professing christian religion.

Resolved, Our Senators and Representatives in Congress are requested to present the subject to the President, and urge him to interpose in behalf of this persecuted, outraged people, and to use the influence and power at his command without delay to shield them from further outrages and to alleviate their sufferings.

Resolved, That we call upon the civilized world, the people of this country particularly, to arise and proclaim in living words their abhorrence of the massacre, and in the name of civil and religious liberty and common humanity demand that our Government put forth a strong and earnest protest against the effusion of innocent blood.

These resolutions were forwarded by telegraph to Senators Morton and Coburn, requesting immediate attention.

Boston, Hartford and Erie Railroad.

BOSTON, June 2.—The House, by sixteen majority, passed, with slight modification, the new bill offered, extending State aid to the Hartford and Erie Railroad. An important feature of the new bill is that it proposes the State shall give up the Berdell bonds it now holds as collateral, to be used with an equal amount contributed by other bondholders for the completion of the road to Fishkill, the State and others receiving instead an equal amount of bonds of the second mortgage. The bill also provides for the reorganization of the company, to meet the approval of the Governor and council; for a satisfactory contract to finish the road within the amounts already named; for the settlement of all claims and attachments upon the property, with interest accruing till July, 1872, by means of second mortgage bonds, and for the necessary ratification and acceptance of the act.

Reunited Presbyterian General Assembly.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, June 2.—In the Presbyterian General Assembly this morning reports from several committees were presented, stating that the United States Government proposed to endow several Professorships in the Highland Presbyterian University, in case that Institution will undertake the education of Indians, who shall act as teachers and missionaries among Indian tribes. Resolutions accepting the offer were adopted.

An overture, presented by the Committee on the Policy of the Church, constituting the Presbytery of East Florida, was agreed to.

The Committee on the Theological Seminary of the Northwest, at Chicago, presented majority and minority reports. The majority report heavily censured three members of the present Board of Directors and directed them to resign. Both reports were received and the majority report adopted. Afterwards the censures were stricken out. On the question of the adoption of the report, a very warm and lengthy discussion took place.

The final items of the Finance Report, concerning the five million fund, were adopted. The final item was altered so as to make collections in the month of January next, or as near as possible simultaneous, instead of fixing a day.

The first Presbyterian Church in Chicago was fixed as the place of meeting for the next General Assembly.

Rev. Dr. G. L. Prentiss and T. J. Skinner, Jr., were nominated to the vacant Chicago Professorships.

The Cuban Question—Subsidies—Cadet Appointments—The Slaughter of Israelites in Roumania—The Indian Visitors, &c., &c.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, June 2, 1870.

Representatives Voorhees and Logan will present a resolution calling upon the Administration to demand prompt indemnity for the barbarous murder of Speakman and Wyeth, and other outrages, by the Spanish in Cuba. The Cuban friends are becoming restive under Banks' procrastination in making a report, and threaten to make a raid upon him and the administration.

SUBSIDIES.

The President sent to the Senate a dispatch from Minister Blow, at Brazil, favoring subsidies to steam lines to the West Indies and South America, which he says will encourage the increased production of coffee and sugar and increase the demand for products of the United States.

The House Foreign Committee has, on motion of Mr. Judd, resolved it is inexpedient to grant subsidies in any form to ocean cables.

CADET APPOINTMENTS.

The following appointments at large of cadets at West Point, to enter in 1871, have been made by the President: V. M. Newton, son of Gen. Newton; Wm. Maynadier, son of the late Major Maynadier; Charles W. Thompson, son of Col. Thompson; Jas. G. Sturgess, son of Gen. Sturgess; Wm. Baird, son of Gen. Baird; Alex. Rodgers, son of Captain C. P. Rodgers, of the Navy; Arthur D. Vinton, grandson of the late Commodore Perry; Thos. G. Davis, orphan of a soldier.

OUTRAGES ON JEWS.

Simon Wolf, of this city, called on the Secretary of State to-day and presented telegrams from various parts of the United States with reference to outrages being committed on Jews in Roumania, and asking for the intercession of the United States in behalf of that people. REVENUE DECISION.

Commissioner Delano has decided to allow insurance companies to deduct sums paid for reinsurance when making returns of gross receipts, reversing a previous decision of Commissioner Rollins. The decision is made retroactive.

DUTY ON HEMP.

The Senate Finance Committee have agreed to report a bill refunding excessive duties paid on Russia hemp and equalizing the duties on hemp hereafter.

CUSTOMS.

XLIST CONGRESS.

(SECOND SESSION.)

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, June 2, 1870.

SENATE.

Mr. HARLAN presented a letter from the Secretary of the Interior suggesting amendments to the treaty with the Choctaw Indians.

Mr. SCOTT presented an amendment to the bill relative to bridges across the Ohio.

Mr. KELLOGG introduced a joint resolution relative to claims of certain northern creditors. Referred.

Mr. HARRIS offered a resolution instructing the Committee on Commerce to inquire the best means and cost of rebuilding the levees on the Mississippi, destroyed during the war, and report by bill or otherwise. Adopted.

The franking bill was taken up, but after some discussion was laid over—yeas 33, nays 26.

The Indian Appropriation bill was taken up, and Mr. MORRILL, of Maine, spoke at length, taking the ground that the Indians should be placed where they would be protected by laws, and that aggressions upon them and disregard by the whites of treaty stipulations were the cause of the various Indian wars.

Mr. STEWART, in reply, contended that as a rule the Indians violate treaties with impunity. He would teach them that their traveling over one-half the territory of the United States, and murdering whoever they chose, must be stopped. It was said their rights were disregarded by bad whites, but it was not bad whites who were murdered by them, but innocent men, women and children. The remedy was to put them on reservations that could be easily guarded, and support them at ten per cent. of the present cost to the Government.

The bill was then partly read, when at 4:23 Senate went into executive session, and at 4:30 took a recess.

Evening Session.—The Indian appropriation bill was proceeded with.

The Committee on Appropriations reported various amendments, making appropriations to carry out treaty stipulations, purchases of clothing and provisions, pay annuities of Indian tribes, etc., including the item of $1,600,000 to carry on treaty stipulations with the Sioux. The amendments were adopted.

An amendment to prevent the payment of claims for Indian depredations out of the money appropriated to pay annuities to tribes was debated. The amendment was finally agreed to.

An amendment from Committee on Appropriations, that upon annuities and interest of trust funds provided by treaties no taxes shall in any case be assessed or collected, was concurred in, and also an amendment continuing the Indian Peace Commission as long as the appropriation for their expenses shall last.

Adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Bills were introduced and referred as follows:

Authorizing the construction of a bridge across the Arkansas river at Little Rock.

Mr. PAINE reported a bill for the payment of certain amounts to contestants of seats from Louisiana, amounting to $19,500, which was passed—77 to 61.

Mr. PAINE also reported a bill regulating compensation in such cases, which provides that no money be paid either party till the case is determined, when mileage and compensation will go to the person to whom the seat is finally accorded, the other party to receive only the actual necessary expenses.

The bill was discussed by Messrs. Burr, Willard, Stevenson and Dawes till the expiration of the morning hour, when

The Internal Tax bill came up.

Messrs. McCreary, Nelson, (Minn.) Townsend, Wood, Finkelnburg, Farnsworth, Ingersol, Pomeroy, Atwood, Benton, Moore and Holman favored the retention of the income tax, and Messrs. O'Neill, Hill, Kellogg, Niblack, Myers, Sargent, Potter, Davis, Fitch, Banks, Archer, Kelley, Hotchkiss, Woodward and Roots advocated its abolition.

Amendments were offered

By Mr. JUDD, confining the tax to invested capital and excluding profits and incomes;

By Mr. HALE, increasing the exemption to $2,000;

By Mr. FINKELNBURG, to limit the amount for house rent to $300;

By Mr. WINANS, dispensing with the tax on incomes from industry and professions and retaining it on incomes derived from capital;

By Mr. MORGAN: Levying a tax of five per cent. on incomes derived from bonds of every description, or notes and mortgages over $1,000 and under $10,000; seven per cent. between $10,000 and $30,000, and four per cent. above $30,000;

By Mr. GARFIELD: Removing the tax from incomes derived from business, and confining it to incomes derived from capital;

By Mr. WOODWARD: Substituting for income tax the withholding of a tax of five per cent. on United States bonds, wherever held;

By Mr. BROOKS, Mass: Striking out the provision requiring a man to account for incomes of minor children;

By Mr. HOAR, prohibiting the publication of income returns and a number of other propositions.

The discussion was finally closed by Mr. SCHENCK.

The previous question was seconded, and a vote on the sections relative to the income tax and the amendments were postponed till to-morrow.

Mr. BECK moved an amendment to the forty-fourth section taxing interest on United States bonds five per cent. The vote on division stood 90 to 60.

The yeas and nays were demanded and pending the vote the House, amid much excitement, adjourned.

Prof. Goldwin Smith and "Lothair."

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 1.—The Tribune publishes the following letter:

MAY 25, 1870.

To the Right Honorable B. Disraeli:

SIR—In your Lothair you introduce an Oxford Professor, who is about to emigrate to America, and you describe him as a social parasite. You well know that if you had ventured openly to accuse me of any social baseness, you would have had to answer for your words; but when sheltering yourself under the literary forms of a work of fiction, you seek to traduce with impunity the social character of a political opponent. Your expressions can touch no man's honor. They are the stingless insults of a coward.

Your obedient servant,

GOLDWIN SMITH.

TRINITY CHURCH.

The New Edifice—Laying of Corner Stone Yesterday—Beautiful and Impressive Ceremony—What the Box Contained—Addresses by the Right Rev. Bishop Kerfoot, Hon. Wilson McCandless, Rev. John Scarborough, Hon. Thomas M. Howe and James M. Cooper, Esq.

The erection of a new public building, as an evidence of the architectural advancement of the city, is always an interesting event. But that interest increases when the structure to be reared takes the place of one around which the most pleasant and precious memories of generations cluster; the history of which stretches backward through decades of years, and is but the record of the growth and progress of a community; which has witnessed the rise and passing away of peoples and movements, and in which is found, as in a volume, events which yet continue to exert an influence in the world. Such was old Trinity Church—now a memory of the past.

And thus it was eminently fitting that the erection of the new,—as a connecting link between what is gone and that to come, should be remembered in a manner which found appropriate expression in the impressive ceremonies of yesterday—around the corner-stone.

The occasion which had been looked to with many anticipations by the members of the Parish, was in every respect one of the most interesting of this character ever occurring within our vicinity. In the preparations the utmost care had been taken, and in the carrying out of the programme arranged the highest wishes of all were gratified.

The hour of five o'clock, which had been fixed for the ceremonies, found a large company of ladies and gentlemen and children assembled at the designated spot, on Sixth avenue. A temporary platform, over the first floor joists, had been erected and provided with seats, which were soon filled by the spectators,—the remainder of the assemblage scarcely finding room in the church yard and on the street, in any convenient position, for a view of the proceedings.

THE PROCESSION.

Shortly after 5 o'clock the opening exercises were commenced, when a number of the children from the Parish and Mission Schools appeared marching from the Chapel, and bearing in their hands bouquets of flowers which filled the air with perfume. Outside the Chapel they formed in double ranks, followed by the wardens and vestry-men, who assumed a similar position. Then came the Rt. Rev. Bishop John B. Kerfoot, D.D., LL.D. Bishop of Pittsburgh, preceding the following clergymen in surplices: Rev. John Scarborough, Rector of the Parish; Rev. Abel A. Kerfoot, assistant minister; Rev. John H. Egar, Rector of St. Peter's Church, Pittsburgh; Rev. Thomas Crumpton, Rector of St. Paul's Church, Pittsburgh; Rev. Benjamin F. Brooke, Rector of Christ Church, Allegheny; Rev. Geo. Slattery, Rector of St. James' Church, Pittsburgh; Rev. W. H. Roberts, Rector of St. John's Church, Pittsburgh; Rev. H. F. Hartman, Rector of St. Mark's Church, Birmingham; Rev. R. J. Coster, Rector of Grace Church, Mount Washington; Rev. R. S. Smith, Rector of St. Peter's Church, Uniontown; Rev. William White, D. D., Rector of St. Peter's Church, Butler; Rev. J. F. Spaulding, Rector of St. John's Church, Erie.

As the Bishop and clergy passed through, the ranks were closed, by the wardens and vestrymen, the children bringing up the rear, when the procession under the direction of the Marshall of the day, Archibald Blakely, Esq., moved forward toward the corner-stone singing antiphonally as it moved, the cxxxii Psalm.

THE CORNER-STONE

Was located in the northeast side of the buttress of the main entrance to what is yet to be the church. Around it wardens and vestrymen assembled while the Bishop and clergy ascended the platform and reached the place which had been reserved for them. As they ascended the choir of ladies and gentlemen with Prof. Benitz presiding at the organ joined in the close of the Psalm.

When all had assumed their places and silence had been obtained the audience with uncovered heads were led in the Lord's Prayer by the Bishop.

The Bishop then read the following

COLLECTS.

Direct us, O Lord, in all our doings with thy most gracious favour, and further us with thy continual help; that in all our works, begun, continued, and ended in thee, we may glorify thy holy Name, and finally by thy mercy obtain everlasting life; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

O eternal God, without whom nothing is strong, nothing is holy: Bless this work for the which we are here gathered together, to the honour and glory of thy great Name, and the edification of thy holy Church; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Vouchsafe, O Lord, to grant that these walls now begun may be built up an holy temple unto Thee. May they be kept from all common and profane uses. May the prayers and praises of thy holy Catholic and Apostolic Church be here offered up, and ascend to Thy throne an incense of sweet-smelling savour. May Thy true and lively word be set forth, the glad tidings of reconciliation in Thy gospel diligently preached, and thy holy Sacraments rightly and duly administered. Amen.

Direct, O Lord, those who design, and those who superintend this building, that it may be a house worthy of thine holy Name. Amen.

To Thy protection, Almighty Father, we commend the workmen that shall be employed in building this thine house. Preserve them from every vain, profane, and unholy thought, word, and deed. May they be kept from all bodily harm and every evil accident and deed. Give thine holy angels charge over them, to keep them in all their ways. Amen.

Enlarge the hearts of Thy faithful people; that as the Israelites of old offered willingly, so we, remembering that our days on earth are but as a shadow, and that there is none abiding, and that all things come of Thee, may with perfect hearts offer willingly, each according to his ability, unto Thee our Lord and God. Amen.

O Almighty God, who hast built Thy Church upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the head corner stone; Grant us so to be joined together in unity of spirit by their doctrine, that we may be made a holy temple acceptable unto Thee, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Priest. Show Thy servants Thy work; and their children Thy glory.

People. And the glorious Majesty of the Lord our God be upon us; prosper Thou the work of our hands upon us, O prosper Thou our handywork.

The Rev. John F. Spaulding, of Erie, then read the 10th and 11th verses from the third chapter of the Book of Ezra.

The choir, led by Prof. Benitz, chanted the 132d Psalm.

THE BISHOP'S ADDRESS.

After the corner stone was laid in its place, the Bishop spoke, in substance, as follows:

Here may be spoken the word requested of me. Let it be the word of instruction and of encouragement; to show what is the meaning of this service in which we are engaged, and to bid you a hearty and loving God-speed in it.

This act of ours, brethren and friends, is not any mere show. It is not a pageant appealing to our imaginations. This act is a very real thing; and it has its reality, we trust and believe, before God, and in His acceptance, as well as in our own devout purposes. We are here entering on a great and holy enterprise, and we would acknowledge God as the author of every good thing we can undertake. This we do in all right enterprizes. But this is no ordinary or secular work. Here we begin a House which is to be God's own House. He has given to us all that we have. Of what we have, we give back to Him a portion, to be here expended in a work which, we design and pray, may promote His glory among men, may further the dispensation of His mercy to the souls and bodies of His children, and carry on to future generations the blessings that we enjoy in His Church. Therefore, we name His ever blessed and glorious Name at this, the very beginning of a House which is to be wholly and always His own House.

But this Corner-stone has yet a further meaning. Here, in this House, is the Gospel of God's Son to be proclaimed; and all the institutions of that Gospel of salvation are here to be maintained. We wish to speak with no uncertain voice. Jesus Christ is the Corner Stone. His faith, as revealed in the Holy Scriptures; as taught, and explained, and preserved in the Cross of His Church; the one old faith of God, the Father, the Son, and Holy Ghost, is the gospel symbolized in this Corner-stone. We build only on that faith. We erect a House of God, to the glory of God, to the salvation of men, in the communion and faith of the one, Holy and Apostolic Church of Jesus Christ. The heritage we have received from our fathers we would send on to our children, unimpaired in its purity and its completeness. The Bible and the Prayer Book—they, too, have been placed beneath that Corner-stone; the Word of God, with the Church's lessons as to its meaning. May this Holy House make them known to many generations to come!

And now a word of encouragement and congratulation. I might say much of the importance of this work to the Church in this city and throughout the Diocese. But I will speak here only the hearty, loving word of sympathy and congratulation to you, my brethren, the Rector and assistant Minister of Trinity Church, to the Wardens and Vestry, and to the members of the Parish. You have done well in this enterprise. God prosper you in it! God bless you all who have given towards the work! God bless the one whose munificence gave to the work its first impulse! Now, let no lack of zeal or of means impair or delay your pious and godly purposes. The generations that follow us, as well as ourselves and our children, now gathering around this foundation stone, are to have a deep interest in this work. Let it, then, be done well, quickly, heartily, in God's name, and in the Holy Name of his Beloved Son, our God and Saviour.

The Bishop then proceeded with the service.

Our help is in the name of the Lord.

Bishop—Except the Lord build the House, their labor is but vain that build it.

In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Amen. [Striking three times upon the stone with the hammer.]

I lay the corner-stone of an edifice to be here erected by the name of Trinity, to be devoted to the service of Almighty God, according to the doctrine, discipline, and worship of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America.

Other foundation can no man lay than that which is laid, even Jesus Christ; who is God over all, blessed for evermore; in whom we have redemption through his blood, even the forgiveness of sins.

Amen.

Priest. O Lord, open thou our lips.

Ans. And our mouths shall show forth thy praise.

Priest. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Ghost.

Ans. As it was in the begining, is now, and ever shall be world without end.

Priest. Praise ye the Lord.

Ans. The Lord's name be praised.

The choir now united in an anthem commencing:

Christ is our corner-stone:
On him alone we build;
With his true saints alone
The courts of heaven are fill'd.
On his great love
Our hopes we place
Of present grace,
And joys above.

The Rev. John Scarborough now introduced the Hon. Wilson McCandless as a member of the Assembly and Judge of the United States District Court. Judge McCandless spoke as follows:

REMARKS OF JUDGE M'CANDLESS.

Right Reverend Sir, Ladies and Gentlemen: Standing on this consecrated ground, surrounded by the mouldering ashes of the dead, as one of the few surviving links between the past and the present, I have been requested by the Rector and my brethren of the Vestry to utter a few words upon this interesting occasion. Attracted more by the Masonic pageant, than by any knowledge of the object of the ceremonial, when a boy, I witnessed the imposing rite of laying the corner stone of "Old Trinity." It was of that symbolic character which impresses youth and is not forgotten in age. The venerable Grand Master, adorned with the jewels of his office, directed the craftsmen to test the stone with the "plumb, level and square," and if found "true and trusty," to lay it due "east and west," to drop upon it the "corn" of plenty, the "oil" of joy, and the "wine" of refreshment, and committed it to the purposes for which it was assigned. So accurately did the craftsmen work, that, when the stone was brought to "light," after the lapse of nearly half a century, it was found in its proper position, and its metallic contents in a sufficient state of preservation to tell the story of its burial. Of all the Masonic brethren, and the "humble and holy men of heart," whose names are there inscribed, not one survives to participate in the solemn ceremonies of to-day. Nearly all the worshippers of this venerable parish, of that date, have gone to their reward. The young clergyman, fresh from the conflicts of the bar, who had fled to the horns of the altar, under whose auspices the corner stone was laid, and who has since filled the world with his fame, has "joined the spirits and souls of the righteous, to bless the Lord, to praise and magnify him forever."

I need not refer to the history of "Old Trinity," which has been written with pathos and beauty by your able and eloquent Rector, and which was listened to with mingled feelings of joy and sorrow, at the last sad services within its sacred precincts. We now begin the history of the new. Do not forget the generous men, who, from the abundance of their liberality, will cause these walls to rise in grandeur and magnificence, an ornament to your city, the pride of your Diocese, and a tribute to the Trinity which you devoutly worship. Remember them in your prayers and thanksgivings. Remember them when the grand organ sounds the "Te Deum" and the "Gloria in Excelsis," when the bells toll for Good Friday, or ring their merry chime at Christmas and Easter. Remember, in the erection of this stately edifice, the great good they will be instrumental in accomplishing for the Church and for the world. And when that imposing tower, whose base is laid broad and deep, like the foundation of the religion you profess, shall raise its lofty pinnacle toward Heaven, let it be emblematic of our aspirations, our hopes and of our ultimate destiny.

ADDRESS OF MR. COOPER.

Mr. James M. Cooper was next introduced, and said:

Our worthy Rector, who has arranged the programme of the proceedings for the present interesting occasion, and who is Chairman of the Committee on Speaking, has recruited me into the service, from among the laity, for a brief address.

As I am accustomed to look upon him as my spiritual father and guide, and to pay great respect to his admonitions and advice, I do not feel at liberty to decline obedience to his call, and all that I have to regret is, that so far as I am concerned, his selection did not indicate some one in my stead, who would be better qualified to meet the exigency and who could discourse to you in more fitting and glowing terms upon this most interesting event in the history of Trinity parish. Forty-seven years ago, there stood upon the spot where we now stand, a goodly company of the faithful, engaged, as we are to-day, in the pious duty of laying the corner stone of an edifice, to be consecrated to the worship of the living God.

Among the people thus engaged were those whose duty it was to see that the stone was placed with precision, by plumb and level and square, according to the time-honored ceremonies of the Masonic order.

Conspicuous, and participating in these, and the more sacred rites of the occasion, was one who has so closely identified himself with the history of Trinity Church and its parish, that the name of Hopkins is always associated with them in the minds of those whose thoughts recall anything of the past glories of old Trinity.

He was at once its projector, architect, and builder, superintending and working with his own hands in its minutest details, and when the work was accomplished, he stood forth before the people, as their religious counsellor, and dispensed from its pulpit, in his own eloquent and inspired language, the riches of his Master's grace, expounding the fulness and sufficiency of the Gospel he was called to preach.

After a long life of piety and usefulness in the service of Christ and of His church, this good man closed his earthly career full of honor as the senior Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States.

But there were others there, partaking in those interesting ceremonies. The fathers and mothers of the parish; the ancestors of many here assembled. Alas! Where are they? No voice responds, since the dark portals of the tomb have closed upon their earthly remains.

What tender and affecting memories are associated with thee, dear old Trinity Church! Within thy sacred walls, what scenes have transpired to endear thy memory to the hearts of those who have sought thy courts to obtain the consolations and encouragements afforded by our most holy religion! How many around me have received the holy rite of baptism at thy font, and been received at thy altar, into the congregation of Christ's flock with the sign of the cross!

How many in riper years, have here renewed the vows of our sponsors, made for us in baptism, and ratified and confirmed the same, renouncing the devil and all his works, the pomps and vanity of this wicked world, and all the sinful lusts of the flesh;—and made a solemn confession of our faith, according to the order of confirmation!

And how often have the faithful repaired hither, to gather new strength in our conflicts with the world, under the droppings of the old sanctuary; and taken fresh comfort to our souls in the Eucharistic feast of the body and blood of our Lord Jesus Christ, whereby our sinful bodies may be made clean by his body, and our souls washed through his most precious blood!

There are indeed sweet and enduring memories in our hearts, of the dear old Church, which can never be effaced, and it is pleasant to know that her walls, although now thrown down, shall rise again by being incorporated into the new, and that the materials of the former building will be utilized, as far as practicable into the edifice now being erected. Old Trinity has fulfilled its mission, and the Parish having grown in power, and numerical strength, demands room for expansion, and a larger and more commodious place of worship, for the convenience and comfort of our present and prospective congregation.

Then, inasmuch as God has blessed us with prosperity, and greatly increased the wealth and population of the Parish, it is fitting and proper that we should acknowledge His goodness and mercy toward us, by building a new temple to His honor, such an one as may truly express our gratitude to Him, and keep pace with the progress of the age in which our lives are cast.

Let it be such as shall demonstrate our sense of the duty we owe to Him, from whom cometh every good and perfect gift, and who withholdeth no good thing from those who truly love Him and serve Him in spirit and in truth.

Let it also be a suitable monument of the culture and civilization of our day, so that those who are to come after us, and who shall occupy our places long after we have been gathered to our fathers, shall learn from our example, to give of their abundance for kindred objects, and for the extension and enlargement of the Redeemer's kingdom.

The building whose foundations are now laid, and the corner-stone of which has now been firmly set in its place, with all the imposing solemnity of our Church ritual, is entitled to the distinction of being regarded as the mother church of this diocese, this being the mother parish.

The beautiful chapel so recently finished, and which has given such universal satisfaction, is part of the same general plan of improvement, and may be accepted as an earnest of what the principal structure, the church itself, will be, when completed.

It is for you Episcopalians, and especially for the members of Trinity parish, to say how beautiful and how appropriate the main edifice shall be in all its appointments and decorations.

If every individual member will do something, according to the ability of each, to uphold the hands of your building committee, the work will be done, and well done, and we shall present you with a structure complete in all respects from turret to foundation-stone, of which the humblest among us, equally with all the rest, may well be proud, as having contributed something, let it be much or little, toward the good work. I would say, then, "Let those give now, who never gave before, and those who always give, now give the more."

The vestry, through the building committee, whom they have invested with ample power and authority, are determined to confine themselves within the limits prescribed by the subscriptions obtained; for we feel that honesty in all our dealings is a religious as well as a moral duty, and that we have no right to contract a debt which we are unable to pay.

It will depend, therefore, upon your liberality whether the designs of the architect shall be in all respects carried into execution, or whether some of the details shall fail of accomplishment for want of the necessary means to complete the work according to the plan and specifications adopted by the committee. It surely cannot be that we, whom God has blessed so much, will fall short of our whole duty in rendering back to His honor and glory something of the abundance He has lavished upon us; and as we witness these sacred walls rising in solemn grandeur, and the tall spire of our new Temple piercing the skies, shall we not look up from earth to Heaven, and in the bright hope of a place hereafter in the church triumphant, resolve, each and every one of us, that we will be true and faithful soldiery of the cross, fighting manfully under His banner, in the warfare we have undertaken in behalf of the Church militant.

And having done our whole duty, we may safely leave the issue with God, invoking His blessing upon our efforts, and praying for the growth and prosperity of our Zion; that the boundaries of His Kingdom may be greatly enlarged, in the salvation of souls, until the advent of that day when He shall come again in glory, and when the trump of the Archangel shall proclaim that time shall be no more.

When the Earth shall be rocked from her foundations,—and expiring nature shall return to the chaos from which she sprang at His command.

The cloud-capp'd towers, the gorgeous palaces,
The solemn temples, the great globe itself,
Yea, all which it inherits shall dissolve;
And like the baseless fabric of this vision,
Leave not a rack behind.

Then, oh then, may our names be found written in the Lamb's book of life, and may these, our feeble efforts in His cause, go up as a sweet smelling savor, before the great white throne, and may it be ours to hear those thrilling and ecstatic words of comfort to our souls: Well done, good and faithful servants. Come, ye blessed of my Father, inherit the Kingdom prepared for you, from the foundation of the world.

AN INTERRUPTION.

During Mr. Cooper's remarks rain commenced to fall and the assemblage adjourned to the Chapel, where the exercises were continued, and the speaker finished his address. Rev. Mr. Scarborough then introduced as one who had formerly been a member of the Parish; had always taken an interest in its welfare; was among the first to come forward when the new church enterprise was talked of, not only with words of sympathy, but with his means; was so well beloved by the brethren that each recurring annual choice of vestrymen found him among them—the Hon. Thomas M. Howe.

ADDRESS OF HON. T. M. HOWE.

Mr. Howe, upon entering the chancel, was visibly affected, and throughout betrayed deep emotion, while he said:

Rt. Rev. the Bishop, the Clergy, Ladies and Gentlemen—I very much doubt whether I can add anything to what has already been so well said which may be worthy the interesting occasion which has brought us together, and yet the place and its associations constrain me not to be wholly silent.

Although my church relations have been for a few years more intimately connected with one of the suburban parishes, my name remains enrolled amongst the membership of Trinity, for which I still cherish a more than filial affection; and I come here to-day to unite with others in laying the corner-stone of a new edifice upon the site of the old, devoutly trusting that it may be a place where God shall delight to be with his people, and where the labors of his chosen ministers shall be abundantly blessed in winning souls to Christ.

To those entrusted with the management of its temporal relations I would say: let no one be denied the privileges of the Sanctuary because of his humble condition. Open wide your doors that all may be free to enter; remembering always that when our Saviour was inquired of by the disciples of John whether it was "He that was to come," he answered, "go and tell John that to the poor the gospel is preached."

This was the conclusive evidence that he was indeed the very Christ.

Around this sacred spot are clustered many very tender and endearing memories, that have become a part of my being; and which can never fade as long as life shall last—may I not better say, so long as immortality endures.

For almost forty years this was the spot where I was accustomed to unite with my neighbors in the worship of God.

It was here that the sacred influences of God's holy spirit imbued me with Christian courage to confess before men my faith in the Blessed Redeemer.

It was here that my children were dedicated to God in holy baptism. And it was in these grounds that I committed to the earth the first-born of my cherished sons.

These are memories which can never die; and wherever I may be, my heart will ever turn to Trinity Church as the source under God of unnumbered spiritual blessings to me and mine.

THE RECTOR'S REMARKS.

When he had concluded the Rev. Mr. Scarborough came forward and said:

It was not my intention to say a word this day, and on this occasion, but the glorious recollections of the past, recalled by the glowing words of the laity, so fitly spoken, move me to add just a word further of thanks and congratulations to the parish of which I am the head. If any of my brethren have ever stood in the same position that I now occupy, they will appreciate as others cannot, the feelings that are uppermost in my mind at this moment. As I listened to the historical reminiscences that have been called up from the past of this venerable parish, I could not help feeling a thrill of joy and gladness that God had called me in His good providence to enter upon and inherit these blessings. Other men labored and we have entered into their labors. Others laid the foundation and we build thereupon.

It is a glorious thing to have a history, extending far back into the past; a history without spot or stain, rich with the garnered memories of two whole generations and more; a history embracing names that we may well be proud of, nay that the whole Church are proud of, for they are known beyond the limits of this city and parish. I feel unspeakable things as I stand here surrounded by the members of my flock and doing my humble part in making up the history of the future in the action of the present. A flood of mighty emotion stirs in me, as I hear the honored members of the present vestry recounting the good deeds and virtues of their predecessors in office, and although the names of the honored dead are to me, who am but a stranger, not so full of meaning as to those who knew them, yet I feel somehow that we are united to one another in a holy bond, and I gladly do my part in paying their memory the tribute they deserve.

We are engaged together this day in a glorious work—laying the foundation of a holy temple. Let us not build it for our own glory, but for His—the Triune God—whose name it bears. Let us lay our offerings and ourselves at the foot of the Saviour's cross, a willing sacrifice. And let me say what I have perhaps said on some other occasion, that I trust every one in the parish, young and old, rich and poor, will feel it a privilege to do their part in this great undertaking of ours, so that in after life they may look on it with satisfaction and feel that they had a hand in it, and gladly did all they could. Many are the kind wishes that go with these walls as they rise toward heaven. Many are the prayers going up for their completion. Let us not fail to add the good deeds that should always accompany pure faith and devout prayers. And if ever that corner stone now laid shall be brought to light by those that are to follow us, and who may perhaps wish to rear a temple still more glorious here, may the names therein treasured up, be treated as lovingly as those names unearthed from the old church, have been treated by the speakers of this day, and may they deserve the same reverent mention. And above all may we see that our names are written, not only on these records of the church below, but in Heaven, where they will abide forever, and in the Lamb's Book of Life, where they shall not be dimmed or erased, when there shall be left no traces of our earthly work. And now may God's blessing abide with us. I feel a pardonable pride in those who are my co-workers; may we see our work brought to a successful issue, and in confidence and love dwell together till our earthly mission is done.

The choir now joined in the "Gloria in Excelsis," after which the Bishop dismissed the audience with the benediction, using that found in Heb., 13 chap., 20 and 21 verses, and the people slowly dispersed.

THE Charleston (S. The News adds that the man hid himself until the war was over, and then settled on a farm within thirteen miles of that city, where he is now at work, and that the surgeon is now a resident of Charleston.

THE DAILY GAZETTE.

OFFICIAL PAPER
Of Pittsburgh, Allegheny City and Allegheny County.

GAZETTE BUILDING:
Corner of Sixth Avenue and Smithfield Street.

FRIDAY, JUNE 3, 1870.

BONDS at Frankfort, 95¼.

PETROLEUM at Antwerp, 53¼.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 114⅛@114¼.

ON Monday next, Oregon elects a State ticket and member of Congress. On the same day, Washington Territory elects a delegate.

THERE is talk of another short tariff bill. And there will be more talk, if it is ever reported to the House. In fact, there is not likely to be anything in it but mere talk.

THE great Indian peace conference will be held at Washington next Monday, when Red Cloud and Spotted Tail will take a quiet solemn smoke with their Great Father.

THE Republican primary election in Beaver county gave M. Weyand 39 majority over W. Henry for Congress, and for W. C. Shurlock 12 majority over T. J. Chandler for the Assembly. Nearly 2,000 votes were polled. These nominations are of course subject to a conference with the other counties of the districts.

THE rejection, by the Senate, of the reciprocity treaty with the Sandwich Islands, is understood to have been placed, in some degree, on the ground that we should thereby lose a revenue which is worth more to us than a reciprocity of free trade. Incidentally, in the discussion, that objection was recognized as applying with great force to the proposed annexation of West Indian islands.

WE regret that we have not succeeded in securing the approbation of the Washington Reporter. As, however, the GAZETTE is conducted not for the exclusive benefit of the Reporter, but rather in accordance with the wishes and judgment of a very considerable number of citizens of Washington county, who do take the GAZETTE and don't take the Reporter, our regrets are tempered with a philosophic resignation.

UNDER the lead of Mr. B. F. Butler, New England in the House goes almost solid against the income tax. Why? Because it is that tax which bears hardest upon her accumulated capital. It is her game to throw off, in this way, her part of the public burthens, and to leave the rest to be borne as it may be, by the country at large. Certain Presidential aspirations, attributed to a member of the Cabinet, are also supposed to direct that opposition.

EVEN the Post Office Department, which never supported itself before the rebellion, and was bankrupt under the Johnson rule afterward, is beginning to rank as a paying institution, under an honest Republican administration. The receipts are now greater than ever before, and the needless expenditures have been abridged, so that the next balance-sheet, if not in favor of the Department, will show so near it, as to promise a net revenue in an other year.

A THOROUGH re-cast of the Federal offices at New York may be anticipated at an early day. Of the propriety of that step, there would be the less doubt when the fact becomes better known that a New York Senator, with Presidential aspirations which never overlooked the current main chance, has succeeded in Fentonizing not less than twenty-seven, or just one-half of the fifty-four important places in the gift of the administration. Of the other half the President has been able to control but eight. The situation does not impress the pure and simple Grant men of that ilk as being just the thing.

THE President's friends in Pennsylvania will heartily congratulate him upon the firmness with which he has repelled all solicitations for the reappointment of Mr. D. A. Wells as special Commissioner of the Revenue. The official life of that gentleman has ceased and will not be renewed. He has made himself very justly obnoxious to American sentiment, so that it would have been a deplorable mistake to have continued him in a bureau which he has, to put it mildly, abused. It is presumed that he will still remain in the Capitol lobbies, in the employ of his free trade friends from across the Atlantic.

PAYING THE DEBT.

When President Grant entered upon his office, he pledged his administration to a steady and effective reduction of the public debt. The month just closed has witnessed that diminution to the extent of fourteen and one-third millions—the greatest reduction during any one month since we began to pay at all. The present month needs to pay off but little over six millions more, (and it is likely to do twice as much,) to bring the net sum of the debt outstanding for the first time below twenty-four hundred millions of dollars. At the rate upon which we may fairly count, unless Congress shall cut off too largely from the receipts, the 4th of March, '71, closing the first half of this administration, will bring our net debt down quite one hundred and fifty millions more. It is but a simple story. We are getting more and more of our honest dues from all taxable sources of supply, and the expenses of the Government have been faithfully and largely retrenched. The sinking-fund increases rapidly, and it reacts, in the same increasing ratio, in the absorption of the main body of our obligations.

It is quite probable that Congress will sanction a reduction nominally of some fifty millions per year in our taxable resources, but there is ground for the presumption that more than one of the diminished rates will be found to yield disproportionately large returns, and that the total receipts may still come pretty near the present mark. In that event, the rapid progress of reduction would continue.

Early in the session, a disposition appeared in some quarters to make a drive against the sinking-fund policy, but the suggestion was so summarily squelched that it is not likely to be renewed. The retention of the policy, and the rapid swelling of that fund begin to tell most effectively upon the volume of the unredeemed debt—and these effects must appear more and more marked with each recurring month. Yet, since, so long as the redeemed debt is not cancelled, but retained for the collection of its interest, the same as if still the property of a creditor, any greater reduction of the taxes is impracticable, we must regard the reluctance of the anti-tax members to assail the sinking-fund policy as a high proof of the admitted soundness of the principle which it stands upon. Wisely, they prefer to let the sinking-fund alone, and direct their artillery against particular imposts. This last Treasury statement will supply them with fresh ammunition. Let them make the most of it!

DEFINING THE ISSUE.

We know where to find the Ohio Democracy. They were never in the habit of speaking with a forked tongue. That is more of an accomplishment with their brethren of Pennsylvania. "Polk, Dallas and the tariff of '42" was as faithful an illustration of the party here, then and now, as this free trade revolution is of the more manly attitude of the Ohio Democracy. There is no doubt that the real doctrine of the party is the same in both States, but in Ohio things go by their right names, and a Pennsylvania Democrat never follows the example if he knows it. We shall be happy to be led to an higher estimate of the candor and courage of our opponents in this State, if we shall find them generally subscribing to the bold demand of their Ohio friends for "a low revenue tariff which closely approximates free trade."

We like this honest show of hands. We take it as a loud and urgent call upon the Democratic party everywhere to plant itself as an unit squarely upon the free-trade idea, approximating practice to theory as closely as the situation shall permit. We like this decided exposition of the radical difference of the parties. Our opponents are for free-trade, as a party issue. We are protectionists: the protection of domestic industry is a Republican, an American idea—and the more American the more Republican. Shall we subscribe to the Democratic shibboleth, or shall we, as a party, adhere to that doctrine which has the cordial and intelligent approval of three-fourths of all those citizens who have ever cast one Republican vote?

The Ohio Democracy could not please us better than by "putting the screws," in this way, to party lines on this great question. The sharper they can define those lines, they sooner we shall discover not only that those who are not with us are against us, but we can then call the roll, and count our desertions. We wait to see how many Republicans, for the sake of free-trade, are ready to swallow Democracy with it. The two go together. We think it will need a good deal of free sugar to make the Democratic bolus palatable to an honestly Republican throat. For example, shall we have an opportunity to see with how much alacrity such anti-protectionist Republicans as Garfield, Winans or Stevenson will march into the ranks of an organization which was never before congenial to their tastes or their principles, following thither an heretical idea which is sure to take them nowhere else?

—Again, we tender our sincere thanks to the Democracy of Ohio for their opportune and exact definition of a living political issue, which is to divide the parties, and upon both sides of which neither Democrat nor Republican can stand. We shall soon see where all men in Ohio are ready to go, and in other States, in due time.

THE success of Mr. Weyand, of Beaver county, for Congress, after an animated contest, is a peculiarly bitter pill for the enemies of General Irwin, who "spread themselves" particularly, but suffered a defeat in a contest of their own seeking that must be especially mortifying. The vote stood: Weyand, 1,036; Henry, 897. On Assembly the vote stood: Shurlock, 953; Chandler, 941.

We take the above from the Commercial of yesterday. In reply we give the following communication, received last evening from a prominent and influential citizen of Beaver county. The facts speak for themselves:

BEAVER FALLS, June 2d, 1870.

EDITORS PITTSBURGH GAZETTE: The Pittsburgh Commercial of this morning heads its editorial column with the statement that "the success of M. Weyand for Congress is a particularly bitter pill for the enemies of General Irwin, who spread themselves particularly, but suffered a defeat in a contest of their own seeking."

Allow me room to say that the article of the Commercial does the General great injury and does not state the case correctly.

I have been the personal and political friend of General Irwin for many years, and took a part—as I always do in my own district in the nomination of candidates for office—in our last week's balloting for candidates for Congress and for the Legislature, and did so neither as the friend or enemy of General Irwin; and this was the case with very many, if not all the friends of Wm. Henry and Wm. C. Shurlock.

On the Falls of Beaver, where Gen. Irwin has more friends than in perhaps all the county beside, Wm. Henry had 335 votes, and M. Weyand 137 votes.

Early last week a telegraphic dispatch from Harrisburg was received here stating that Gen. Irwin had left Harrisburg for Beaver, to defeat the nomination of Wm. C. Shurlock.

The General was at home in Beaver county all week, and with his friends was very active, and was returned to the Convention as a Committee man from his District.

The proceedings of the Convention were all harmonious and the friends of Wm. C. Shurlock largely in the majority, and Wm. C. Shurlock was declared the candidate of the Republican party of Beaver for Assembly.

The people nominate their candidates for office by ballot in Beaver county, and not the State Treasurers.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

AN ENGLISH-GREEK LEXICON. By C. D. Yonge. Edited by Henry Drisler, LL.D., Professor of Greek in Columbia College, Editor of Liddell and Scott's Greek-English Lexicon, etc., etc. Published by Harper & Brothers, New York. For sale by E. Miner, Fifth avenue, Pittsburgh.

Years of patient, pains taking labor has been spent by Dr. Drisler in the preparation and perfection of this great and invaluable work. But few have a just conception of the magnitude of the undertaking, as much of the labor of this character is never seen. The plan of the work by Mr. Yonge was to furnish a complete English vocabulary equal to words in Greek by which the English can be rendered, and none but such as are to be found in the purest authors. To Mr. Yonge belongs the honor of having first carried out the full quotation of the authorities for every word introduced. Professor Drisler has faithfully adhered to the original work, and given the authority for all new words introduced. The body of the work is preceded by an essay on the order of words in the Attic Greek by Prof. Short, of Columbia College, invaluable to the student, in connection with the lexicon, in constructing Greek phrases and to use Greek words. The Appendix of Greek synonyoms from the French by Pillon, edited by Rev. T. K. Arnold, will be found full and complete. Professor Drisler, as editor of "Liddell and Scott's Greek-English Lexicon," the best in use, performed important service, but this book is destined in time to supercede all others of their class. It not only gives the Greek of any English word, but it supplies the English of Greek words. In a word, it is a work of rare merit, and an authority to the student and classical scholar.

IVY LEAVES. By Mary Ellen Atkinson. Published by J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia.

In this thin volume, executed with such mechanical elegance, much of pathos and beauty are woven together in these "Ivy Leaves." The sweet, mellow, devotional spirit, which permeates them, will invite responsive feelings from the loving and the devout. Some of the briefer pieces possess excellencies of a high order. No heart touched by grace can read the book without being the gainer.

THE CHRISTMAS GUEST. A collection of Stories. By Miss Emma D. E. W. Southworth; and her sister, Mrs. Frs. Henshaw Baden. Published by T. B. Peterson & Brothers, Philadelphia.

This book is worthy of commendation for the brevity of the stories and variety; but they have some merit, too, and the volume no doubt will have a wide circulation. Most of the articles were written by Mrs. Baden, a lady of talent, and worthy of consideration by the lovers of fiction. The work is well bound, and paper and type in keeping.

CHRISTIANITY AND GREEK PHILOSOPHY; or, the Relation between Spontaneous and Reflective Thought in Greece and the Positive Teaching of Christ and his Apostles. By B. F. Cocker, D. D., Professor of Moral and Mental Philosophy in the University of Michigan. Published by Harper & Brothers, New York. For sale by E. Miner, Pittsburgh.

It is rarely a work of a speculative character is handled with so much ability, as Dr. Cocker has shown in the discussion of this difficult subject. Dogmatic theology so environs the mind of many, that the discussion of speculative matters is discountenanced and frequently denounced, without fairly considering the arguments adduced in support of such views. The author is fully master of the situation, and impresses the reader at the outset, that he seeks to do good; and while he assumes that right reason is the foundation of all true religion implanted by God himself, and that the philosophy of the ancient Greeks was perfecting for the teachings of Christ, he demonstrates the superiority of Christianity, and shows the defects of Greek Philosophy. Familiarity with the author's style and character of his writings previously, enables us to heartily endorse the views of acknowledged critics of philosophical literature, that this work is one of rare erudition, contains important original suggestions, and indicates the thoroughness of its preparation. It cannot fail to do good and promote Christianity. It is a work that requires careful thought to enjoy its excellent features. The author is preparing another volume, entitled "Christianity and Modern Thought," for the press.

A TREATISE ON ELEMENTARY GEOMETRY; With Appendices containing a Collection of Exercises for students, and an Introduction to Modern Geometry. By Wm. Chauvenet, LL. D., Professor of Mathematics and Astronomy in the Washington College. Published by J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia. For sale by Miner, Pittsburgh.

This work is divided into two parts, "Plane Geometry," and "Geometry of Space," with supplements giving Exercises in Elementary Geometry, and an Introduction to Modern Geometry. Prof. Chauvenet is evidently up to the advance views and demands of this department of science, and in its preparation he has defined with vigor and completeness its laws, keeping in view the simplicity required in a purely elementary work. Students will find the exercises in the Appendix valuable and useful in the study of this science.

"GUILTY, OR NOT GUILTY: The True Story of Manhattan Well. Published by Carleton, New York. For sale by J. W. Pittock, Fifth avenue, Pittsburgh.

The thrilling scenes depicted in these pages are invested with more than ordinary interest, in view of the story being founded on facts, some of the characters though under fictitious names are still living. The author presents testimony that will go far towards establishing the truth of the story of Mahattan Well. Lovers of an exciting romance will find much to arouse and interest them in reading the incidents so well told in this narrative.

ANTONIA. A novel. By George Sands. Translated from the French. By Virginia Vaughan. Published by Roberts Brothers, Boston.

These well-known publishers have commenced the issue of a series of translations of George Sand's better novels. The first of the series, of sixteen volumes, "Mauprat," was issued recently, and "Antonia" has just appeared. The edition is handsomely gotten up, at a fair price, and admirably suited for library purposes. Of the merits of this writer's works, but little need be said, as their character are pretty well known. The scene of the story is in Paris, just preceding the Revolution. The points are strongly drawn, and highly wrought.

MISS VAN KORTLAND, by the author of "My Daughter Elinor," published by Harper & Brothers, New York, will doubtless find much favor from the lovers of fiction. The reputation of the author, acquired by the publication of "My Daughter Elinor," will attract hosts of readers. The work is brought out in good style, and may be obtained bound or in paper covers.

CARLINO, by the author of "Doctor Antoine," etc., with illustrations, published by J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia, is a clever story of Paris and Italy. It was received with much favor as a serial in "Good Words," and in its present form will be better appreciated. It presents phases of life and discipline incident thereto, which make the tale quite attractive.

ROUGEGORGE AND OTHER STORIES, just issued by J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia, form a third series of "Short Stories for Spare Moments," reprinted from Lippincott's Magazine. Alice Cary, Harriet Prescott Stafford, and A. L. Wister are among the list of writers. This book is far preferable to while away an hour or so, than some of the insipid novels which cost more than the price of these stories. The contents are rich, varied and attractive. For sale by Miner.

THE new British naturalization Treaty proposes that citizens of the United States who may or shall have been naturalized in Great Britain shall be considered by this country as citizens of Great Britain. Reciprocally, citizens of Great Britain naturalized in this country shall be considered by Great Britain as citizens of the United States; but citizens of either contracting party, in case of their return to their original country, can be prosecuted there for crimes or misdemeanors committed before naturalization, saving to them such limitations as are established by their original country. Naturalized citizens of either contracting party who shall have resided five years in the country which has naturalized them are not to be held to the obligation of military service in their original country, or to the incidental obligation arising therefrom, in the event of their return to it, except in cases of desertion from the organized military or naval service.

THE bill from the select committee on the decline of American tonnage, from the first has had to contend against heavy odds. It met with the opposition of the entire West and was steadily fought by the free traders. By a dexterous piece of management the enemies of the measure succeeded in striking out that part of the bill which provided that the materials for ships upon which a rebate would be allowed must be of domestic manufacture. This made the bill obnoxious to the tariff men, and rather than have it become a law in that shape, they turned in with the free traders to defeat it. It was finally recommitted to the committee, but it is regarded as dead, at least for this session.

ON the bill reducing taxation, another effort was made to change the special tax on wholesale liquor dealers, but it was finally retained at fifty dollars, with ten dollars for every additional thousand in all sales in excess of $25,000 a year. There is a general movement from all parts of the country by dealers for a uniform tax of sixteen cents per pound on tobacco, but the Committee on Ways and Means are disposed to indorse it.

THE Sheriff of Cass county, Nebraska, arrested a horse thief named John Deitchler on the 17th ult., was taking him to jail, when Deitchler attacked him, and then tried to get away. The result was Detchler was shot through the neck and killed, the Sheriff received a ball through his hand.

A Lilliputian Revolution.

Every mail from South and Central America brings us news of new "revolutions," which are glanced at by the New York reader and forgotten as soon as seen. But the latest political convulsion of this character possesses certain ludicrous elements that should ensure for it a longer remembrance, and which, droll as it seems, has a classical precedent in the wooden horse in whose capacious stomach the Greeks were conveyed into ill-fated Troy.

The revolution in question took place on the 27th of April at San Jose, the capital of Costa Rica. About a year ago a revolt upset the then existing government, and constituted a new one, with Senor Jimenez at its head, in place of Senor Castro. Jimenez has not been popular, and his enemies devised a plot for his overthrow. Their plan was to get possession of the barracks, in which the troops were quartered. The door to this building was carefully guarded, but once a day a cart laden with grass hay and vegetables was allowed to enter. They devised a second cart to follow the first. It contained a framework covered by grass, and within this framework were stowed away nine men armed with revolvers.

We are informed in the redoubtable history of Mr. Obadiah Oldbuck that, wishing to pass with his lady love through the country dominated by hostile monks, from whose convent he had surreptitiously escaped, he disguised himself as a miller, and placing the lady love in a sack, laid her across his horse's back. "But," we are further told in this veracious history, "the monks, having the right of toll, probe the sack, which collapses, uttering a fearful cry;" and in this way Mr. Oldbuck's pleasant stratagem was spoiled.

The sentry of the San Jose barracks did not possess the sagacity of the ghostly fathers of the convent. They allowed both the carts to enter unchallenged; and when once inside the armed force of nine men sprung from their concealment, shot the commander of the troops, Senor Biscubi, and, following up this victory, gained possession of the person of President Jimenez, who was deposed, and at last accounts one Dr. Bruno Curranza reigned in his stead.

Thus was this exciting coup d'etat accomplished. It offers suggestions to the bold Fenian leaders now on our northern frontier, who should take lessons in strategy from the revolutionists of Costa Rica.—N. Y. Eve. Post.

A Terrible Tale---Thieves and Murder--Blood and Starvation---The Cave and the Scaffold---A South American Luigi Vampa.

A horrible story of brigandage reaches us from Chili. Lagoberon, a notorious bandit captain, was so closely pursued by a body of South American troops recently that he was compelled to quit his band of brother cut-throats, who had been the terror of the whole country round, and take refuge in a cavern situated near the summit of one of the lofty mountains of the Sierra Profunda. In this cavern he had concealed a female captive, whose husband he had robbed and slain. The soldiers made several ineffectual attempts to reach the abode of the culprit. Lagoberon, a man of gigantic stature and herculean strength, succeeded in beating them off by rolling heavy rocks down upon them whenever they approached. The officer in command of the troops resolved at first to starve the bandit out, but after two days' blockade grew weary of so tedious an expedient, improvised an escalade of the chieftain's stronghold, and succeeded in capturing him. To their horror upon entering the cavern they found the poor woman in a dying condition, Lagoberon having cut off one of the breasts of the unfortunate captive and eaten it. The inhuman butcher was conveyed to Talca, where he was promptly tried and condemned to die by the garrote. He was speedily conducted to the scaffold, and while the executioner was engaged in adjusting his toillette de mort the convict drew a whistle which he had concealed in his pocket, and blew it sharply; whereupon about sixty of his followers, who had introduced themselves amongst the crowd surrounding the scaffold, rushed upon the gendarmes and massacred them ere they could offer any resistance. They then freed their chief and garroted his would-be executioner, after which they escaped, almost unscathed, to the mountains, facilitating their flight by seizing the horses of the murdered gendarmes. They also carried off several women from the throng gathered to witness the execution.

Cruel Outrage in the Coal Regions--A Boy Murdered in Cold Blood.

The Pottsville Journal says:

Of the many fiendish outrages we have been called upon to record in this county of late, we can bring to mind none that calls more loudly for summary vengeance upon the perpetrators of these deeds of blood than the one which occurred at Loss Creek, near Shenandoah City, on Friday, wherein an innocent, inoffensive boy was made the victim of the banditti highwaymen, which seem to have been let loose upon our highways, of late, to prey upon the helpless, unprotected citizen as he passes from one place to another in Schuylkill county. A little while ago it was but the coal operators and paymasters that were in danger of being murdered while passing over our country roads; but now it is unsafe for helpless women or inoffensive children to leave their homes for any purpose to pass any considerable distance over rural highways.

On Friday morning as a farmer's son, a half-grown boy, was returning from Shenandoah to his home in Mifflin, Columbia county, after having disposed of a load of hay, he was accosted at Loss Creek by a man, who asked for a ride. The boy consented, and the man jumped on to the wagon, and as they proceeded along the road they came to a hill, when the man whom he had befriended proposed to get out and work the brake, and as he proceeded to do so drew a revolver and shot the boy in the back or side of the neck—the ball passing through the head and coming out near the eye. The boy fell to the ground and was run over by the wagon, when another man came out from ambush and the two villains rifled his pockets and made off, leaving their victim for dead.

About an hour after the occurrence the boy was found by some road hands and carried to the residence of Mr. George A. Herring, where medical aid was summoned, and the wounds were dressed. At our latest advices, received from a gentleman who came from Loss Creek yesterday, the boy was still living, but no hopes of his recovery were entertained.

The "Keystone" State.

We notice, says the Philadelphia Telegraph, a foolish error going the rounds of the press regarding the appellation of the "Keystone State," and how Pennsylvania came to be so called. It would be an endless task to attempt to correct all the stupid mistakes made by newspapers, but this error concerns Pennsylvanians directly. According to the veracious historian whose account is before us, Pennsylvania has no better or higher right to be called the "Keystone State" than this; that when the city of Washington was laid out, a certain bridge near Georgetown had its arch fancifully inscribed with the names of the original thirteen States, and that Pennsylvania, having the central place in the arch, was called the Keystone by the primitive citizens of those times, and has continued to be called so ever since. This is putting the cart before the horse with a vengeance. We do not deny, continues the Telegraph, so much of the bridge story as describes the formation of the arch, but we do say (and think it strange even that it should be necessary for us to say) that the device of the architect was but taken from a historical incident of very great importance. The name, in fact, was derived from the circumstance that Pennsylvania cast the deciding vote on the question of American independence. In Sanderson's "Lives of the Signers" it is stated that the vote was taken by the delegations of the thirteen colonies. Six of them voted in favor and six against the measure.

The delegations from all the colonies, except one member from Pennsylvania, had voted, and it was discovered that they were equally divided. Upon this simple vote, then, depended the entire question of issuing the Declaration of Independence. The name of the delegate upon whom so much depended was John Morton, and it is a name that should never be forgotten. John Morton voted aye! and the deed was done. Thus Pennsylvania, by giving the casting vote, settled that important question, and from that circumstance she received the name of the "Keystone" State—the thirteenth State—the block of the arch.

IT is understood that the President presents new facts and arguments in favor of the San Domingo treaty. He meets and answers many of the objections heretofore urged against this measure, and shows that in the acquisition of the island the Government will obtain a hold upon the West Indies for which England has been seeking for years in vain.

A SUGGESTION TO WALT. WHITMAN.

The Indianapolis Evening News, deeply moved by the perusal of "Shoo Fly" Cox's eloquent protest against taxing peanuts, suggests that Walt. Whitman should embrace this opportunity for a new lyric. It suggests that something in the following fashion would be about right.

I sing a song of the pea-nut.
The fragrant esculent, the cracking of whose shells hath oft delighted me in the Bowery.
Likewise in the Canterbury.
Whose sweet tongued essence hath lifted into the hights of sublimity and evasnescence.
The souls of the diminutive paper venders
And also of the larger ones,
And still also the souls of the cherubic gamins who with busy hands and stiffened brush,
Bring mirrors from the deep blacknsss of "Mason's Challenge."
Of the pea-nut is my recitative and O! Nature who oft hath voiced me from the dythrambicity of alternate chaos and mingling hecatombs
Piled high with fiery joy and genius' fiery solitude
I am ever thine.
Thou can'st safely bet I am, and the pea-nut is mine because it is thine,
And I congratulate thee, O! Nature, upon such a performance. When thou gottest up the pea-nut thou knewest thy business as only Congressmen
Knew it when they would aid thee and thy votaries.
O, Warble me sweetly of the pea-nut and interlace it with gracious effusions upon the gorgosity of great Protection.
Also of Love and Joy and Bliss and Humanity, and all other good things which—etc.

THREE REQUISITES OF HEALTH.

If all the sickly people in the world were to take to their beds, and demand medical treatment, there would not be doctors enough to attend them, nor a sufficient number of the robust to nurse them. Three conditions are absolutely essential to health, viz.: a good appetite, easy digestion, and the ability to sleep soundly. Seven-eighths of the many thousands who suffer from indisposition, yet do not labor under serious disease, complain that they "can't eat," that their stomachs are "out of order," or that they "don't sleep well." For this class of ailments few persons think of calling in a physician. Nor is it necessary, inasmuch as a course of Hostetter's Bitters will certainly relieve the derangements of the stomach, the liver, and the nervous system, from which want of appetite, indigestion and sleeplessness arise. This excellent vegetable tonic and corrective is also a delightful anodyne. Insomnia (or incapacity to sleep,) which has resisted all the ordinary remedies, will yield readily to a dose of this pleasant sedative, taken just before retiring to rest. In ordinary medical practice it is usual to give a stomachic, an aperient, an invigorant, a soporific, or an antiseptic, as the case for the time being may seem more particularly to require; but in this grand restorative all these medicinal properties, and many others, are blended in due proportion. Thus, the digestion is stimulated, while the bowels are regulated, the liver toned, the strength recruited, the nerves calmed, the fluids purified and the circulation equalized. It is believed that there is no other restorative and regulating medicine in the world which acts so beneficially and agreeably upon all the assimilating and secretive organs at the same time; and to all who lack the three fundamental requisites of health and enjoyment, a vigorous appetite, sound digestion and refreshing sleep, it is confidently recommended as a specific.

DR. WHITTIER

CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL PRIVATE DISEASES, Syphilis in all its forms, all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produce some of the following effects, as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.

A particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorrhea or Whites, Falling, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovaritis, Pruritis, Amenorrhoea, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhoea, and Sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.

It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.

The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases that can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps, in sealed envelopes. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.

The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlets at office free, or by mail for two stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. Hours 9 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays 12 M. to 2 P. M. Office, No. 9 WYLIE ST., (near Court House) Pittsburgh.

PITTSBURGH CATTLE MARKET.

EAST LIBERTY STOCK YARDS,
THURSDAY, June 2, 1870.

CATTLE.

The offerings have been unusually large this week, and as will be seen by reference to the report of sales, the number sold is the largest we have had to report for several months, footing up eight hundred and eighty two head. Notwithstanding the unusually heavy receipts, the market up until to-day ruled strong and with a good attendance of buyers, the demand seemed to be fully equal to the supply, and, consequently, prices were well sustained. To-day, however, the feeling on the part of buyers seemed to be a little shaky, most of whom had bought all they wanted, and with an apprehension that the eastern markets are likely to be glutted next week, the tendency was downward and the market dull. There has been an expectation on the part of stock men for some time past that there is likely to be a reaction soon, and the fact that the shipments from this place have been unusually large this week, created an impression that this reaction is likely to set in next week. The great proportion of the cattle were taken by Philadelphia buyers this week, some 65 or 75 car loads, and the only way we can account for this is that they paid bigger prices than the New Yorkers could stand; for several months New Yorkers have been taking most of the cattle here, but this week, as already intimated, the tables were turned and the New York men were obliged to take a back seat.

Sellers have no reason to complain of the market this week, especially those who sold on Tuesday or Wednesday. It is stated that a well-known Allegheny drover realized something like $20 per head profit on a drove sold at these yards. That will do.

HOGS.

The hog market has been comparatively quiet since the date of our last report. The arrivals have been light, but there is not much inquiry at the prices, and consequently the number wanted is not large—buyers generally allege that prices are higher relatively here than in the east, and they have no margin. We now quote York hogs at 8¾@8¾; Baltimore, at 9@9¼; and Philadelphia, at 9¾@9¼.

SHEEP.

The arrivals of sheep have been large this week, mostly of the commoner grades, and while this particular grade ruled dull and lower, prime fat sheep sold readily at last weeks prices. Good to prime 90 lb sheep sold at 6¼@6¾; 80@85 lbs, 5½@6; 75@80, 5@5½; scalawags, 3½@4½. As already intimated, a much larger number of the better grades could have been sold, while of common and inferior, the supply was considerably in excess of the demand.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
THURSDAY, June 2, 1870.

The oil market is so very mean that it is scarcely deserving of any notice whatever. It is the same old story, dull and little or nothing doing, and what is worse still there is not much prospect at present of any immediate improvement. The brokers say, and they ought to know, that it is hard to get buyers and sellers together, and from the amount of business transacted recently, there can be no doubt but what this is true. The sales for the past two weeks all put together, would not make a respectable days business two or three years ago, when it was nothing unusual to have 20,000 or even 30,000 bbls reported in a single day. There is this consolation, however, if the sales are light the shipments are liberal, which indicates a legitimate business, and while it is not so good for the brokers it may be better for manufacturers.

CRUDE.

There is no improvement in the demand and no quotable change to make in quotations. Sale 1,000 bbls to be delivered next week at 12¾, and 5,000 seller till November 1st at 12. June is quoted at 12½; July, 12⅝; August, 12¾; June to December, 12¾; seller all year 11¾@12; buyer, 13⅛@13¼.

REFINED.

Quiet and unchanged—no sales and no prospect of any. June quoted at 27⅛; July, 27⅛; August 27¾; August to December, 28; buyer all year offered at 29.

PITTSBURGH MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
THURSDAY, June 2, 1870.

The growing grain crops are now being watched with a good deal of interest all over the country, and the advices from nearly every quarter are favorable, not even excepting California, in which State it was feared the wheat crop would be a failure. A dispatch from San Francisco under date of May 28th, says: "Crop prospects materially improved with late fine weather, and wheat will not fall materially short of an average." We clip the following bearing this subject from the Chicago Tribune:

"No summer ever opened more auspiciously for this part of the country than that which begins to-morrow. For once, the farmers cannot find an unfavorable circumstance upon which to build their usual apprehensions of short crops. Neither wet, nor frost, nor even any serious danger of drought forbid the hope of the most abundant crops ever raised in the Northwest. It is a farmers' proverb that we seldom have two good crops in succession, and never three. But now, after having had two remarkable crops of wheat—and crops of corn, which, though not so abundant as wheat, turn out about double what people had expected—we seem in a fair way of putting the stamp of unreliability on the farmers' proverb by having the most abundant crops of the last three years. In the South the prospects for cotton are even more remarkable in connection with the abundant crops of the past two years, because cotton is generally the most precarious crop of all the great staples."

APPLES—Market almost bare; may be quoted at $5@7, for fair to choice.

BUTTER—Continues dull with a supply in excess of the demand, and dealers, particularly commission men, are anxious to realize. We continue to quote at 15@20, for fair to choice.

BROOM CORN—Demand very slow; prices nominally unchanged, 12 to 16c.

BROOMS—Store prices; Fancy, $5,50; No. 1, $4,50; No. 2, $4; No. 3, $3,50; Common, $2,50@3.

BEANS—Dull but nominally unchanged, $1,50@1,75 per bushel.

CHEESE—The arrivals from Ohio have been unusually large within the past few days, and the market is fully supplied. Ohio Goshen quoted at 15@15¼; Ohio Factory, 14@14½; New York Goshen, 17.

CARBON OIL—Is dull but firm, and cannot fairly be quoted below 24, in a jobbing way.

CORNMEAL—Demand light and prices unchanged, 95@$1 per bushel.

CEMENT—Sales of Louisville Hydraulic at $2@2½ per bbl.

DRIED FRUIT—Continues dull particularly the common grades. Apples, 5@6¼ cts; Peaches, 6@7 for quarters, and 8@9 for halves.

EGGS—The arrivals continue liberal, and the market is a little shaky though there is no change in prices, 19 cts being regarded as the ruling quotation.

FEATHERS—Very quiet and the demand is always very light at this season of the year; live geese feathers still quoted at 80@85 to the trade.

FLOUR—The market is quiet but steady with a continued fair local demand. We continue to quote western flours, in store, at $5,25@5,75 for spring; $5,50@6 for winter and $7@7,50 for fancy brands. Rye Flour, $5.

GRAIN—The grain business continues very sluggish, with but little prospect of any immediate improvement. Wheat is coming in pretty freely, and, as usual, the millers are very bearish. We now quote at $1,15@1,18 for good to prime red—little or no white wheat offering. Oats dull and unsettled; sale 150 bushels, on wharf, at 49; and 400 bushels, in store, at 52. The arrivals appear to be falling off slightly. Corn is dull as ever, no margin to ship east and the local demand is very light. Sale 800 bushels ear and shelled, sold together, as 85. Rye is also very dull with no buyers above 90, and but even at that; sale of 300 bushels at 90. There is little or no barley though there is no demand deserving of the name.

HAY—Continues very dull, and prices are weak and drooping; sales from country wagons, at $10@16, and baled on wharf, at $12@15.

HEMP—Sales of undressed Kentucky Hemp at $167.

HUSKS—Corn husks, 3@3½ cts.

LARD OIL—Is drooping; we now quote at $1,26@1,28, for Extra No. 1, the outside figure for well known western brands.

LIME—Sales of Cleveland at $2,25 per bbl. and eastern at $1,75.

PROVISIONS—Market steady with a fair jobbing demand, and prices are unchanged. Plain Shoulders, 13¾; Sugar Cured (canvassed,) 15¾; Ribbed Sides, 16¾; Short Rib, 17¼; Clear Sides, 17¾; Canvassed Sugar Cured Hams, 20¼; Breakfast Bacon, 18, plain, and 19, Canvassed; Lard, 17@17¼, in tierces; and 18@18¼ in kegs and buckets. Mess Pork, $30¼. Dried Beef, higher, 21¼, Canvassed.

PEANUTS—Dull. Tennessee, 8@9 cts.

PEARL BARLEY—No. 4, 5¾c per lb; No. 3, 5¾; No. 1, 6¾. Oat Meal—A & B per bbl. of 200 lbs, $10; for half bbl. 100 lbs, $5,50.

POTATOES—The supply of prime Peach Blows is almost exhausted and the market is firmer and prices tending upward. We now quote at 40@45 per bushel.

SEEDS—Flaxseed is in steady demand, at $2,20. No demand for Clover or Timothy Seeds.

RIVER NEWS.

The river was about stationary yesterday, under the influence of the recent heavy showers, with 3 feet 6 inches in the channel.

The Granite State, Capt. W. H. Kerr, is the regular packet for Portsmouth to-day, leaving at 4 P. M. This fine steamer, being of remarkably light draft, will go through with her usual promptness, and passengers and shippers need apprehend no delay on account of low water. The first clerk, Mr. Johnston, is a courteous and attentive gentleman.

Capt. R. C. Mason, of the Camelia, left by rail on Wednesday to overtake his boat. He was detained here several days on business of a private character.

The Juniata arrived yesterday morning and departed again in the afternoon. Notwithstanding she had considerable freight, she experienced little or no difficulty in getting through. She reports having met the St. Charles at Wellsburg on Wednesday at 10 A. M. and the Arlington at Wellsville at 4 P. same day.

Capt. James Gordon, for many years connected with the Peoples Insurance Company but who for the past eighteen months has been a resident of St. Louis, has returned with his family to Allegheny city again.

The Great Republic was still aground, at last accounts, and away out of the channel, with five feet at her bow, and one at her stern.

It is stated that the steamer Columbia, recently arrived at Sioux City from the headwaters of the Missouri, where she was all winter, lost $40,000 on her trip. The St. Louis Democrat thinks that $10,000 is meant instead of $40,000. The Columbia is an old Pittsburgh boat and was built by Capt. Wm. Dean.

—A tax of much interest to steamboatmen came before the Superior Court of this city yesterday. Mary B. Lawton, as administratrix of her husband's estate, had brought suit against Capt. James H. Marratta and others for the recovery of $5,000 damages on account of the loss of her husband by the sinking of the Emma No. 3, of which the defendants were owners, in the Mississippi river. There is a statute in this State under which a suit to recover for such a loss may be brought by the widow or next of kin, when the accident occurs in the State. Upon a motion to make the petition in this case more definite, Judge Storer ruled that evidence must be presented to show that the accident occurred in the State, or plaintiff could not recover under the statute.—Cin. Gazette.

—A Louisville dispatch under date of Tuesday says: The Kate Putnam passed up for Pittsburgh. The Leclaire arrived from Tennessee River. The Mollie Ebert attempted to ascend the falls, this evening, but was unable to stem the current, and fell back to Portland to await more water.

—The towboat Sam Brown, enroute from St. Louis to New Orleans with a tow, strained two of her barges Saturday, at Randolph, sixty miles above Memphis. The barges were badly broken and in a sinking condition.

—Captain J. M. White has contracted for a large steamer at Louisville for the New Orleans and Greenville trade, to be completed early in October.

—There are five sidewheel boats running between New Orleans and Shreveport—the Grand Era, La Belle, Selma, B. Johnston and Frolic.

—The towboats Blue Lodge, Wild Cat, Sam Roberts, Eagle, Tigress, Tom Rees and Stella arrived at Louisville on Monday.

—Capt. List's Argosy has been chartered to carry a load of Democrats to Charleston, West Virginia, June 6th.

—The St. Marys is being repainted at Cincinnati. Capt. Scott of Evansville did not buy her as expected.

—The Lorena is receiving her new shaft, and will shortly be ready for business.

—The Kate Putnam was to have left Cincinnati for this port on Wednesdry.

Smoky Island.

ALLEGHENY, June 2, 1870.

MESSRS. EDITORS—A resolution has been passed by Allegheny Councils, requiring the Committee on Common Grounds to inquire into the titles of those claiming to own property on the south front of the city, known as Nelson's Island, Smoky Island, etc., and further to ascertain at what price said claimants would be willing to dispose of their titles to said lands.

You are aware that this property, in its present condition, owing to its liability to overflow, is of very little value, and, until something is done with the grade, either by the city or by private enterprise, nothing can be done in the way of building or improvement of any kind.

Questions of streets, alleys, drainage, and height of grade for the grounds and the embankment surrounding them, are prominent and somewhat embarrassing to the progress of Councils, whilst the property is in its present condition as to ownership.

Some are of opinion that for want of substantial foundation it will never be practicable, or at least advisable, to erect buildings of any value thereon; therefore, the best use to which said lands could be put, would be grade and lay them out with a view to and for the purposes of additional park grounds, to be improved and beautified hereafter.

Certainly this large area of land, situated in the centre of population and comprising some sixty acres, should be made available, either for building purposes, thus largely adding to the taxables of the city; or for additional breathing spots, where the tired citizen may indulge in freshening breezes, wafted from the fair bosoms of the three rivers.

Yours, PROGRESS.

CRUSHED TO DEATH.

Man Killed at the Grain Elevator.

About half-past three o'clock yesterday afternoon a fatal accident occurred at the Grain Elevator, on Liberty street. It appears that a man was standing in the gate-way through which the cars pass into the elevator, with his back against the outer corner of the wall. A car was being backed in, to which he paid no attention, and was caught by the car, which passes within four inches of the wall, and crushed to death. We were unable to learn who the unfortunate man was, but were informed that the body was removed to Allegheny, where he resided.

CHOKED TO DEATH.

Fatal Accident—Killed By a Pretzel.

A singular accident occurred in South Pittsburgh, yesterday afternoon, resulting in the death of a little boy five years of age, son of Frederick Colwees, residing in South Pittsburgh.

The child was crossing Carson street, in front of his father's house, about 1 o'clock P. M., eating a pretzel, and the driver of a car which was coming down the street called to him in a sharp tone of voice to get off the track. The boy was alarmed, and jumped back, when a piece of the pretzel he was eating entered his throat, where it stuck and resisted all efforts to remove it.

The child lingered in great pain until about 4 o'clock last evening, when death relieved him from his sufferings.

U. P. CHURCH.

General Assembly—Last Day's Proceedings—Home and Foreign Missions—Education—Organic Union—The Last Dinner—Bill of Fare—Closing Session.

EIGHTH DAY—MORNING SESSION.

The Assembly met at nine o'clock in the morning and spent half an hour in devotional exercises, Rev. J. L. Purdy in the chair.

The Court was opened for business, Rev. D. Paul leading in prayer.

Rev. R. H. Pollock read the action of the Associate Synod in relation to the transfer of property. It recommended that the Treasurer of the Board of Trustees of the Associate Synod be directed to pay over to the Treasurer of the Board of Trustees of the U. P. General Assembly the accrued rents and interests of the Speer estate, and hereafter these rents and interests, as they may accrue, to be employed, one-third to Home Missions, and two-thirds to be given to the Board of Education, to be disposed of in accordance with the rules and regulations of the Board. The proceeds of the Morris estate to be paid over to the Westminster College, after deducting expenses of suit, &c.

The paper was referred to the Committee on Finance, and also to the Committee on Education.

On motion, Dr. Black was added to the Committee on Education.

ORGANIC UNION.

The following letter of Rev. R. D. Harper to Rev. J. S. Kendall, Moderator of the U. P. General Assembly, transmitting the action of the General Assembly of the Re-united Presbyterian Church relative to organic union, was presented and read in connection with the action of the Presbyterian Assembly:

PHILADELPHIA, May 31, 1870.

To REV. J. S. KENDALL, Moderator of the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church, to meet in Pittsburgh, May 25, 1870.

Dear Sir: By appointment of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, I have the pleasure of transmitting to you, herewith, an official copy of the action of said Assembly at its present session, in Philadelphia, on the subject of organic union with the United Presbyterian Church. Permit me to assure you of the fraternal regards of the Presbyterian Church, and to express the hope that the desire for organic union thus expressed will be cordially reciprocated by the Assembly over which you preside.

The following persons constitute the committee contemplated in the resolution of the General Assembly, viz: Rev. Cyrus, Dickson, D.D., Rev. Herrick Johnson, D.D., Rev. R. D. Harper, D.D., William Bakewell, Esq., and Richard Edwards, Esq.

With great regard,
Your obedient servant,
R. D. HARPER.

PREAMBLE AND RESOLUTION.

Reciprocating the Christian salutations so cordially expressed by the delegate from the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church of North America, regretting as we do that the committees previously appointed to confer with a similar committee from the United Presbyterian Church on the subject of Organic Union, were unable to attend at the time appointed, and desirous as we are not merely to cultivate the most fraternal relations, but if possible to secure organic union with a church so closely allied to us in faith and practice; therefore,

Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed to meet with a similar committee from the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church to confer with respect to organic union between these churches, to report the result of said conference to the next General Assembly.

Dr. Brown presented the report of the special committee on psalmody, and moved that it be placed on record without reading, and be made the special order of the day for half past two o'clock.

The report was received and the motion adopted.

Rev. Mr. Owens presented the report of the Committee on Statistics.

The report was received and adopted.

Rev. A. G. Wallace presented the report of the committee appointed to count the vote on overtures. The report was referred to the Committee on Psalmody.

HOME MISSIONS.

The special order of the day being the consideration of Home Missions, and the hour having arrived, the report of the Committee on Home Missions was taken up.

The report read as follows:

The Committee on the Board of Home Missions beg leave to report as follows:

The Home Mission work is, in the judgment of your committee, the great work of the Church. The field to be occupied is extensive and inviting, and upon the energy with which it is cultivated, depended under God, not only the extension of the Church at home, but also the success of missions in the foreign field. The more effectually the home field is cultivated, the more the Church will be able to do abroad.

From an examination of the report of the Board it appears that this extensive and ever increasing field has been cultivated with a good degree of energy and success during the year now drawing to a close. The Church, it would appear, is being more than ever impressed with the importance of the home field; hence her liberality to this Board during the present year. It is gratifying to find that all the claims against the Board up to April 1st, 1870, have been met, and that there is still a small balance in the treasury. This speaks well for the Church, and also for the economy and wisdom of the Board. True, indeed, there is but a small sum in the treasury to meet the claims of the last quarter of the current year, yet it is hoped that enough will be paid into the treasury during the sitting of the Assembly, to enable the Board to meet promptly their claims as they become due.

Your Committee would recommend for adoption the following resolutions:

1. That this Assembly records its grateful thanks to Almighty God for the measure of success which has attended the labors of our missionaries during the present year.

2. That the action of the Board in the appointment of missionaries and in the appropriation of moneys for the coming year be confirmed.

3. That when an appropriation is made to a place in which there is a settled minister, it be regarded as on condition of settlement, and ceases when the relation is dissolved.

4. That the Executive Committee for the coming year shall consist of the following persons: Revs. J. S. Pressley, D.D., J. G. Brown, D.D., and A. G. Wallace, together with Messrs. Andrew H. Bryce, S. Mahood, James McCutcheon and A. R. Cunningham, Mr. A. H. Bryce to act as Treasurer.

5. That a Committee consisting of Revs. A. G. Wallace, D. M. B. McLean, J. G. Brown, D.D., and the Corresponding Secretary, be appointed to revise the regulations of the Board and report to the Assembly next year.

Mr. McHenry called for the reading of the resolutions in the report, and moved that they be considered seriatum.

The first resolution was adopted.

The second resolution was then taken up.

Dr. Black moved to amend by appropriating to the colored congregation at Monmouth, Illinois, $450.

The motion elicited considerable discussion.

Rev. Mr. McHenry, from the Committee, said that the matter had been fully considered by the Committee, and he hoped the Assembly would approve the action of the Committee.

Rev. Mr. Blair—I hope it will not.

Moderator—Order, brethren; I hope members will study brevity in their remarks and respect to each other.

Mr. Blair—I won't stand any personal reflection from the Moderator of this Asssembly.

A motion was made that the floor be withheld from Mr. Blair, until he apologized to the Moderator.

By repuest of the Moderator, the motion was withdrawn.

After considerable discussion the amendment was adopted.

A motion was then made to increase the appropriation to the Vermont Presbytery to $100.

After some discussion the amondment was adopted.

A motion was also made to increase the appropriation to the Chicago Prtsbytery $100, making it $1,000.

The amendment was lost, by a decided vote.

The previous question was called on the adoption of the second resolution, and was sustained. The resolution was then adopted.

The third, fourth and fifth resolutions were adopted without discussion.

The preamble was then adopted, and the report as a whole was adopted as amended.

Mr. McHenry offered a supplementary report, accompanying which was a resolution authorizing the Board to appoint Mr. S. M. Hood to labor at Delta Walla, Walla county, Wyoming Territory, as Missionary for the ensuing year, and that $500 be appropriated for his support.

The report was received, and the resolution adopted.

JEWISH MISSIONS.

The report of the special committee on Jewish Missions was taken up. The report recommends the continuation of Rev. Mr. Triss as Missionary to the Jews in New York.

A lengthy discussion ensued in which Mr. Criss' qualifications were fully canvassed. It was stated that he was deficient in both prudence and common sense.

Rev. Mr. Cook offered as an amendment a resolution authorizing the appointment of a committee on joint missions, and that the committee be instructed to seek out a suitable person as a missionary to the Jews.

After considerable discussion the previous question was called and sustained.

The question was then taken on the amendment, which was lost.

The question then recurred on the adoption of the report, which was also decided in the negative.

Mr. Wallace moved that the Committee on Finance be directed to confer with the lady who proposes the donation to the Jewish Mission, and report at the next meeting of the Assembly.

FOREIGN MISSIONS.

Rev. David Paul, from the Committee on Foreign Missions, offered a resolution requesting persons desiring to make donations for special missionary purposes to consult with the Board before so doing.

Mr. McGay moved as an amendment, "that whatever moneys or goods are contributed or donated for a special purpose, the request of the donor shall be complied with." The amendment was lost.

The question then recurred on the resolution as presented, which was adopted.

The report was then adopted as a whole.

The hour of twelve o'clock having arrived the Assembly adjourned, Rev. Mr. Hays leading in prayer.

THE DINNER.

At half-past twelve o'clock the members of the Assembly, to the number of three hundred, repaired to Mozart Hall, as usuall, where, as has been the custom since the Assembly convened, a most sumptuous repast was in waiting. The bill of fare comprised all the substantials and luxuries of the season which, after the divine blessing had been invoked by Dr. Cooper, were dispatched with a zest that proved conclusively their excellence and in a manner which was certainly flattering to Mr. Simpson, under whose supervision the dinner was prepared.

BILL OF FARE.

The following was the bill of fare of the closing dinner:

Roast.—Beef, Veal, Lamb, Chicken, Beef, a la mode.

Boiled.—Chicken, Salmon, Holland Sauce; Breast of Lamb, Parsley Sauce; Lamb, Mint Sauce; Chicken Patty, Giblets in Rice.

Baked.—Barbacued Salmon.

All the vegetables of the season.

Dessert.—Peach Pie, Rhubarb pie.

Pound Cake, Lady Cake, Ice Cream and Strawberries.

Tea and Coffee.

At the conclusion of the feast Rev. John Douglass, D.D., was called upon to return thanks, after which Rev. J. R. Johnson, of Washington, Pennsylvania, submitted the following:

When dinner was ended and before the members left the table, the Rev. J. R. Johnston offered the following resolutions:

The members of the General Assembly having enjoyed the generous hospitality and kind attentions of their friends in Pittsburgh and Allegheny, as exhibited in their homes, their churches, and in Mozart Hall, where dinner has been provided for them during the past seven days, would express their appreciation of and gratitude for all these friendly favors by the adoption of the following resolutions:

Resolved, That we are deeply grateful to the members of the U. P. Churches in Pittsburgh and Allegheny for the kind welcome they have given us, and for the liberal, attentive and courteous manner in which they have contributed to our necessities and comfort, assuring them, also that the labors and cares connected with the transaction of business in the Assembly have been lightened and shortened by their considerate generosity.

Resolved, That we are under deep obligations to Messrs. Hammer & Sons who have gratuitously given the use of Mozart Hall, in which these tables have been spread, and to Mr. Wr. W. H. Simpson, the caterer, who has so abundantly furnished them;

Resolved, That our special thanks are due, and are hereby tendered, the committee who have furnished us the daily dinners in this place, and to the ladies who have so actively assisted in their arrangements, hoping that while these latter have been "troubled about many things," they may yet enjoy the blessings of having "chosen the good faith which shall not be taken away from them."

Resolved, That returning to our homes, we will carry away with us and retain the pleasantest recollections of our Assembly sojourn among the friends in Pittsburgh.

Resolved, That while we heartily thank these friends, having entertained us as strangers, some "thereby entertaining angels unawares," we yet feel authorized to assure them of the hope contained in the promise "that he who gives to a disciple a cup of cold water in the name of the Master, shall in no wise lose his reward."

Resolved, That acknowledging God to be the giver of every good and perfect gift, we earnestly thank Him for "filling our mouths with good things," and for raising up around us so many generous friends, and that now, as always, we call upon our souls, and all that is within us, to be stirred up and magnify and bless His great and holy name.

The Moderator, Rev. Mr. Kendall, was called upon, and spoke in the most flattering terms of the liberality of our citizens.

Short addresses were then made by Messrs. Wallace, Jackson, Douglass, Black, Reed and others, in all of which the best feeling prevailed, after which the resolutions were adopted.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Assembly convened at two o'clock and was opened with prayer by the Rev. Mr. Alexander.

The Clerk read the minutes of the morning session.

THE SPEER ESTATE.

Mr. Getty, chairman of the Committee on Finance, then presented the following report:

That the Associate Synod has directed the Board of Trustees of that Synod to pay over to the Trustees of the General Assembly of the U. P. Church the accrued rents and interests of the Speer Estate, and the money that may accrue hereafter from these sources. That the appropriation of these monies shall be one-third to Home and Foreign Missions and two-thirds to the Board of Education of the U. P. Church.

The Committee recommends the adoption of the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the General Assembly of the U. P. Church most thankfully accept the generous appropriation of the monies arising from the accrued interest of the Speer Estate.

Resolved, That the Trustees of the General Assembly be directed to receive and receipt for these funds.

Resolved, That the Board of Trustees be instructed to pay over to the Board of Education two-thirds of the monies thus received, and that the remaining one-third be divided as follows: two-fifths to the Board of Home Missions and three-fifths to the Board of Foreign Missions.

The report was adopted.

CHURCH EXTENSION.

The report of the Committee on Church Extension was then taken up and read by the Clerk. The report, after mentioning matters which had been referred to them urged the great importance of church extension and recommended the adoption of the following resolutions:

1. That the request of the Presbytery of Steubenville be referred to the Board of Church Extension.

2. That a Corresponding Secretary for the Board be elected to serve for three years from election.

3. That the duties of this Secretary be similar to those of the Secretaries of the other Boards having such officers.

4. That the Corresponding Secretary of this Board be a corresponding member of the Board of Home Missions, and vice versa that the Corresponding Secretary of the Board of Home Missions be a corresponding member of the Board of Church Extension.

5. That the compensation of the Corresponding Secretary be $200 per annum.

6. That ———— be and is hereby chosen such Secretary.

7. That the Board be directed to revise its rules and report their revisions to the next Assembly for adoption.

8. And further, that these revisions be such as will secure to the church additions to this fund; and also, that the assistance given congregations be a donation or loan, in whole or in part, as circumstances require.

9. That the Board shall take such action as will be necessary to awaken a greater interest in its work.

10. That all our pastors be requested to press the claims of this Board upon the church as occasion offers.

11. That $20,000 be appropriated to this Board for the ensuing year.

12. That the Rev. Wm. J. Reid and John Taggart and John Hopkins, whose terms of service expire at this time, be re-elected.

The report was adopted.

Rev. A. G. Wallace was then chosen Corresponding Secretary unanimously.

The Committee further presented a supplemental report in relation to the work in Chicago, approving the action of the Mission there in commencing the erection of a house of worship, and recommending the agent of that Mission to all friends of the U. P. Church.

The report was adopted.

THE PSALMODY.

The report of the Committee on Revision of the Psalms was taken up. After it had been read by the Chairman, Dr. Easton, it was taken up and adopted seriatim. It enumerated at length the various proposed revisions, and directed that the Psalms, as amended, be sent down in overture to the Presbyteries and if approved, to be published in one book together with the old version in proper place, as soon thereafter as possible.

The whole report was adopted, after being considered seriatim.

The Rev. Mr. Brown presented the report of the Committee on Overtures, stating that all the psalms sent down in overture to the Presbytery had been adopted by the constitutional majority, except numbers 12, 14, 15 and 20.

The report was approved, and the appropriate resolution accompanying adopted.

COMMITTEE ON UNION.

The report of the committee on nominating a Committee on Union with the Re-united Church was presented, naming the following persons:

Committee—Rev. John H. Brown, D. D.; Rev. J. B. Dales, D.D.; Rev. Wm. J. Reid, and Elders Wm. M. Gormley and Thomas Swaney.

Dr. Brown asked to be relieved from the Chairmanship and the request was granted, Dr. Dales, at Dr. Brown's request taking that place.

Rev. Dr. Armstrong thought it not decorous to appoint an entire new Committee from that which had been appointed on previous negotiations which had failed. He thought that Committee had performed its duty and should not be so slighted.

Rev. Brownlee moved that the Committee of last year be substituted for the one reported by the Committee on Nominotions.

The substitute was entertained and the motion adopted. These gentlemen are Revs. John T. Pressly, D. D., D. R. Kerr, W. Davidson, James Harper, Alexander Young.

Rev. Dr. Brown thought that the elders should be represented on the Committee. He favored the substitution of ruling elders for the last two persons.

Rev. Mr. McHenry moved a reconsideration of the vote just taken—that the proposed change might be made.

About half an hour was spent in Parliamentary practice which was interrupted by a suggestion from a member that if the proceedings were to continue in such a manner he would move a reconsideration of the vote on the dinner question.

Finally order from confusion was brought, and a committee decided upon as follows: Rev. J. T. Pressly D. D., Rev. D. R. Kerr, D. D., Rev. W. J. Reid. Elders—Wm. M. Gormley and G. M. Reed.

Rev. Cr. Easton moved that the thanks of the Assembly be tendered the Rev. D. Beveridge for his labors in the matter of revising the psalms, and that he be allowed $1,000 for his work. Carried.

THE SABBATH SCHOOL.

Question was then taken up in the consideration of the report of that committee. The remaining resolutions not adopted at the last meeting, on Wednesday night, were opened and the report as a whole approved.

Rev. Mr. Jackson moved that Rev. J. T. Cooper and Rev. John G. Brown be added to the delegates to visit churches in England and Scotland. Carried.

The report of the Committee on Publication was then taken up and occupied the remainder of the session.

EVENING SESSION.

Assembly met at 7½ o'clock and was opened with prayer by the Rev. Alexander Smith, of the Dominion.

A resolution was passed requesting other Evangelical bodies to co-operate with the Railroad Committee of the Assembly in securing reduced fare for delegates over the different railroads.

A paper was presented by Rev. J. A. Bailey, from the Committee on the Board of Education, relating to the transfer of the theological seminaries from the care of the Synods to the General Assembly. It recommended that the location of the seminaries be determined by the Assembly; that they arrange the time and course of study, fix the number of professors and the amount of salaries. It was adopted.

A motion was passed to notify the proper authorities of the Seminaries of the action taken.

The Committee on Bills and Overtures reported as follows:

On overture No. 1, 127 ayes, 536 noes; not voting 65.
No. 2, ayes 539, noes 59; not voting 21.
No. 4, ayes 198, noes 185; not voting 79.
No. 5, ayes 208, noes 245; not voting 21.
No. 6, ayes 60, noes 69; not voting 13.

Overtures 1, 5 and 6 are therefore rejected, and overtures 2 and 4 are adopted.

The first overture refers to the marrying of a deceased wife's sister. The Article of the Confession of Faith on this subject is retained as it is according to the vote.

The Committee on Bills and Overtures reported on the memorial of the Presbytery of Le Clair, in regard to the frequency of Overtures, that the frequency be discountenanced. Adopted.

PAPAL BAPTISM.

This subject was again called up. The previous question was called for, on the amendment, namely, to send the subject down to the Presbyteries for information, and was ordered by the Assembly.

The question was then taken on the amendment, when it was declared lost by a vote of 46 to 51.

The question was then taken on the following resolution:

Resolved, That in the judgment of this Assembly Papal Baptism should not be recognized as valid. Ayes 77, Noes, 19.

Dr. Brown said it was an important subject, and they should have given their reasons to the world. But he would acquiesce, and yield to the majority.

A motion was made to publish the paper of Dr. Pressly, which contains the reasons.

A motion was made to reconsider the vote.

Rev. D. Paul thought that, although he had voted with the majority, the matter should be duly considered before it was finally acted upon.

Rev. Wm. Bruce said seventy-seven men are legislating for the whole Church without consulting it.

Rev. H. H. Blair said if the validity of Papal baptism was admitted, they might as well admit all the ordinances of the Romish Church as valid.

A motion was made to lay the motion to reconsider on the table. Lost.

Rev. Mr. Smith said that anti-Christ must be in the Church. He "sits in the temple of God showing himself that he is God."

Rev. W. S. Owens thought members should have time to consider such an important subject.

The previous question was called for and ordered, on motion to reconsider.

The motion to reconsider was carried.

A motion was made to recommit the subject the committee. Lost.

Rev. R. H. Pollock moved that the question be sent down in overture to the Presbyteries, in the following form: "Is Papal baptism valid?" Ayes 75, Noes 21. So the matter goes down in overture.

Drs. Doig and Gillespie asked and obtained leave of absence for the remainder of the session.

The paper of Dr. Pressly on Papal baptism was ordered to be printed.

LAW OF DIVORCE.

The Committee on the Law of Divorce reported that nothing but adultery or wilful desertion is a sufficient cause for divorce, &c.

A motion was made and carried to recommit the subject to the Committee.

SECRET SOCIETIES.

The report of the Judiciary Committee on the memorial of the Philadelphia Presbytery relating to secret societies was read. It sets forth that in was inexpedient to send down the question in the memorial of the Philadelphia Presbytery in overture. In response to the Chartiers Presbytery it was stated that the Assembly of last year did not alter or modify the 15th article of the Testimony. Presbyteries were enjoined to carry out the language of the Testimony on the subject, and that the discipline of the church be exercised against all offenders.

Rev. W. C. Jackson said if that meant work, when they went home they would find enough to occupy their time till the next meeting of the Assembly. Other members spoke to the same effect.

An amendment by Rev. Mr. Turnbull was offered that sessions be enjoined to carry out the law of the testimony on the subject of Secret Societies, but that they exercise discretion in enforcing discipline, while they feel their obligation to carry out the law of the Church.

Rev. R. H. Pollock said if they have a great work to do, the sooner they do it the better for the glory of God and the salvation of the souls of men and for themselves.

An elder said if they had a "chore" to do they should do it. [Laughter.]

Rev. J. C. Purdy thought the resolution too harsh. He would give the utmost stretch to "forbearance in love."

Mr. Turnbull thought that if they discharged their duty an Odd Fellow or Free Mason should be turned out of the church, provided the laws were carried out universally.

Rev. Mr. McHenry said that to allow sessions to exercise discretion would be virtually to multiply the law of the Church.

Mr. Robert McCague moved that the matter be laid on the table, and that the subject be left under the action of the last Assembly. Lost.

Dr. Easton offered a substitute to the effect that no action of the last Assembly did or could alter or limit the law of the Church on the subject of secret societies. The substitute was entertained, and on motion was adopted.

FREEDMEN'S MISSION.

The report of the Committee on the Freedmen's Mission was read. The Mission is out of debt. An appropriation for salaries of $5,500 was asked for, also $1,000 for contingent expenses for the Vicksburg Mission. An appropriation of $6,000 was asked for the Nashville Mission, and $1,000 for Leavenworth, making $13,500 in all. The report urged greater liberality to the Freedmen's Mission. It recommended the name of Rev. J. W. Witherspoon be substituted in the room of Rev. J. B. Clark, D. D., as Secretary of the Mission.

NARRATIVE AND STATE OF RELIGION.

The Committee on Narrative and State of Religion reported through the Rev. Wm. Bruce. The statistics are as follows: Licensures, 23; ordinations, 17; installations, 51; dissolutions of pastoral relations, 55; new congregations, 20; congregations dissolved, 7; new mission stations, 15; ministers received from other denominations, 1; minister dismissed to other denominations, 12; ministers deceased, 15. It recommended that the committee be appointed at each Assembly whose duty it shall be to report, not to that, but to the next Assembly. The committee was re-elected.

The Judicial Committee reported that a Presbytery has jurisdiction over a minister who has received his certificate of dismissal until he presents his certificate to another Presbytery. Adopted.

Several documents were ordered to be printed, among which was a paper on Egypt, and a memorial from the San Francisco congregation.

Rev. Messrs W. G. Moorhead and J. G. Carson and Mr. J. B. Crothers were appointed a Committee on Credentials.

PSALMODY.

Resolved, That the Presbyteries be required to examine with care the approved new version of the Psalms, and send any amendment which they may wish to the committee of five to which the compiling of the Book of Psalms has been referred.

Dr. Easten offered the following resolution: Resolved, That the principal clerk be instructed to draw on the Treasurer of the Assembly for $500 in favor of Dr. Beverage for his labors as chairman of the Committee on Psalmody, which had already been voted. Adopted.

The salary of the Corresponding Secretary of the Board of Church Extension was fixed at $300.

The clerks were instructed to publish the minutes, to be compensated for as usual.

A resolution was adopted declaring that the use of tobacco was demoralizing in its nature.

A vote of thanks was passed to the Pittsburgh GAZETTE, Dispatch, and Commercial for their excellent reports of the proceedings of the Assembly.

A vote of thanks was passed to railroads, and also to the Moderator for the impartial manner in which he presided over the deliberations of the Assembly.

It was moved that the Assembly be now dissolved.

The minutes were then read, and after the usual devotional exercises the Assembly adjourned at half-past eleven o'clock, to meet in Xenia, Ohio, on the fourth Wednesday of May, 1871.

THE FENIANS.

Meeting at Lafayette Hall, to Raise Funds to Bring their Comrades Home—Amount Subscribed.

Pursuant to a published call, a meeting of Irish citizens was held at Lafayette Hall last evening for the purpose of raising funds to enable the Fenians, who left this city some days since to participate in the Fenian raid on Canada, to return to their homes. The meeting was a very small one, there not being over forty persons present. On motion Mr. James Daly was called to the Chair.

Mr. Daly stated the object of the meeting, after which Captain Gallagher, who had just returned from the "front," was called upon to state his experience.

The Captain gave a description of the Fenian war and its termination, and closed by saying that the want of success must be attributed to the generals, that the men were ready and willing to fight but they could get no one to lead them. He said that after the battle the "Fenians retreated in good order considering." There were six men out of the twenty-three who left Pittsburgh, in Buffalo, fifteen in Malone and two had gone to Boston. Those remaining in Malone and Buffalo have no money and could not get away.

On motion it was resolved to take up a collection when those present came forward and contributed the sum of $34.

On motion the following named gentlemen were appointed a Committee to raise additional funds by subscription: Messrs. McAljer, Russell, Fred. Richardson, Powers and Kearny.

Mr. Tracy called upon the Treasurer for a report of the amount of funds in his hands, collected prior to the meeting.

The Treasurer reported that he had $64 in addition to the amount subscribed at the meeting, making $98 in all.

The Chairman stated that it would require about $500 to bring the men who went from this city back again.

Mr. Tracy moved that the fund on hand be sent on immediately. Adopted.

Mr. J. M. Meagher said he was sorry to see so few persons present, particularly as the press was represented.

There was one paper in particular which always took occasion to abuse the Irish people, and had done so every since it had been controlled by an Irishman.

Question—To what paper do you refer?

I mean the Pittsburgh Daily Dispatch, the filthy sheet that always abuses the Irish and ridicules the cause of Ireland. No true Irishman should read it.

After the transaction of some unimportant business the meeting adjourned.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

A Child Probably Fatally Injured by a Runaway Horse—Excitement—The Rider of the Horse Arrested.

An accident of a very lamentable character occurred on Liberty street, near Second street, yesterday afternoon about half-past 3 o'clock, which will probably result in the death of Dennis O'Connell, aged six years, son of Daniel O'Connell, who resides at No. 1 Twenty-first street.

The little boy, it appears, was playing on the street at the place named, when a boy on horseback came dashing down the street at a furious pace, and before the little fellow could get out of the way the frightened animal knocked him down and stepped upon his head.

The child was taken up insensible and carried to its home, and the horse and rider were pursued by the excited populace down to Seventh st., where they were overtaken, and the rider, John Scott, a boy about fifteen years of age, was arrested and taken to the lock-up, on the supposition that the child was dead.

The horse belonged to Mr. Hastings, by whom Scott is employed as driver, and it appears that the affair was purely accidental. He was riding the horse, which is a vicious brute, along Twenty-first street at a slow gait, and when turning into Liberty street the animal took fright and started to run. The boy did all in his power to check him, but was unable to do so until he had reached Seventh street.

The child, we are informed, was seriously injured, having received a serious wound on the forehead, which fractured the skull and may prove fatal.

Mr. Scott is spoken of as a quiet and orderly boy, and those who know him and have heard his statement of the unfortunate affair attach no blame to him whatever.

The father of the unfortunate child, having been informed that the accident occurred through carelessness, and thinking that his child was dead, was very much excited; but he appears to be a man of reason, and when he hears the facts in the case he will in all probability exhonerate the boy from any blame.

Young Scott was retained in the lock-up until about half-past seven o'clock, at which time Mr. Hastings appeared and offered to give any required amount of bail for his appearance this morning, and he was released.

Crushed.—Last evening about 7 o'clock Geo. Noell, a brakeman employed on the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad, was crushed between two cars, near the Elevator on Liberty street, and it is thought fatally injured. He is about twenty-four years of age, unmarried, and resided in Allegheny. He was still living at last accounts.

The Spring Stock of Henry G. Hale, Merchant Tailor, at corner of Penn avenue and Sixth street, is now large and complete. Monsieur Bonpain continues to preside at the cutting. tf

ONCE MORE IN COUNCIL.

Meeting of the Woman Suffrage Association Last Evening—Joyful Gathering—They Debate a Little—And Talk a Great Deal—And Relieve Their Minds—And Adjourn.

The Woman Suffrage Association still lives It manifested vigorous life last evening by holding another of those interesting and highly edifying gatherings for which it has already become so famed.

Room No. 13, English's Building, Fourth avenue, third story, was the honored rendezvous for the fifth assembling. The room is consecrated to the noble object of teaching the young idea how to shoot, and in that view there was an inexpressible fitness in the new purpose for which it was temporarily devoted, for what young idea needs more of this culture than that to which the Woman Suffrage Association is wedded?

The audience, which comfortably arrayed itself behind the desks vacated by the youth who gathered during the day, was not so large as on some former occasions. Probably the weather had its influence upon this state of affairs—as it has upon other mundane things.

NEW RECRUITS.

Last evening found a number of new recruits or curiosity-seekers—at a first glance it was difficult to exactly distinguish. Some accurate idea, however, was had of the relative position of the parties when the President suggested that those who favored the object were permitted to step forward and sign their names to the Constitution and By-laws. This pleasurable ceremony, like all the joys of life, was attended by appropriate disadvantages which necessitated a recurrence to the pocketbooks of the signers. One dollar was all.

The meeting was called for seven o'clock precisely. It was commenced very promptly at half-past seven. Miss Hindman taking the chair and leading the opening devotional exercises.

Reading the minutes was then disposed of by Miss Hattie Smith, in her peculiarly fascinating manner. They, of course, were approved. Whatever the Secretary does in this line always meets with enthusiastic approval.

The President asked if there was any business before the Society.

The suggestion was received with smiles. The members remained fanning themselves and otherwise giving signs of edifying serenity.

The silence was at length broken by the President, who called upon Miss Kate Crain to read a communication received from Mrs. Helen Jenkins, one of the founders of the institution.

Miss Crain, in response, read the effusion referred to, in which the writer narrated her

JOY AT THE SUCCESS

Which had crowned the W. S. A.; expressed her horror at the benighted editor of the Volksblatt, who expressed himself unfavorable to it; related a touchingly thrilling conversation she had with a youth of fifteen summers who opposed women voting; indulged in a sweet strain of complacency in reviewing the long list of bright, noble men who had espoused the cause, and concluded her lengthy epistolary effort with a tender comparison of the relative merits of boys and girls, triumphantly vindicating her position that the softer sex were only so in name.

The reading of the letter fell like a pleasant shower on June roses.

The good effect, with true dramatic genius, was improved by Miss Crain to indulge in a roseate picture of

BEAUTIFUL ITALY,

"golden ambered"—and a great many other peculiar characteristics—which had adopted the ideas of the W. S. A.

The President then, with a gracious smile, signified to Mr. Whitman—tall youth, poetical appearance, hair behind ears except what covered his chin—that the Association was now ready to hear him.

The speaker, or reader, succeeded in inflicting upon the hearers his idea of Woman Suffrage, abounding in poetry, scriptural allusions, and prose of the most remarkable character, which was spread out over about half a ream of foolscap. They received it feelingly, especially when he gave utterance to the striking figure that this woman question would not die.

"IT WAS IN THE AIR."

Like murder, it will out. Like Banquo's ghost, it will rise." He closed his brief speech of half an hour amid the pleasure of all, except those who, by his sudden exit, were awakened from a sweet nap, and called back to the conflict.

They voted him, silently, as a promising convert.

Miss Jennie E. Smith [flaxen hair, mild eyes, pale countenance, blue sack, light brown dress] next entertained the Association much its delight, with the worship paid to that

FALSE GODDESS,

Custom, which sanctioned almost every crime and was the hideous monster which reared its form in opposition to woman suffrage. The fair speaker commenced mildly and was in a fair way to continue upon the even tenor of her way without excitement, but for an unlucky sentence which drew forth applause, and at once the woman suffrage in her nature asserted itself. Brilliant, sparkling, sarcastic was the remainder of the performance.

THE DEBATE

Was then on the programme. The question announced asserted: "Resolved, That women are not represented by men."

Miss Hindman suggested condensation in the remarks to follow.

The word not was then stricken out, so the question assumed a positive shape.

Miss Hindman—Well, now, any person has a right to discuss the question.

Ominous silence. Rustle in the corner; lady in black rises; is announced as Mrs. Pauline Danse, and reads an essay on the delinquencies of men. German men especially, who sleep till nine o'clock, get up and adjourn to a saloon, where a lunch and serves to prepare for the arduous labors of the day; who manage to dispose of dinner with the assistance of six glasses of the same seductive beverage, smooth the cares of life at three o'clock by a slight sojourn at the saloon, and at evening assemble around the festive board in the temple of Bacchus, to convince themselves that women should not vote. [Laughter.] Such men didn't represent the fair speaker, she said.

Miss Matilda Hindman [Mrs. Foster in the chair] said men all asserted that women really did control—all represented. They said and we love you, and thus it was clear the men contended, they were ruled by the women. The fair speaker even granting this astonishing argument thought as the two people had but one vote if the man voted as his wife wanted him he did not then represent himself. If men and woman desired to be represented they must be two voters, that each might express through the ballot his or her feeling.

"YOU LOVE US"

If women were represented in the Government, would they form the laws which are now on the statute books—a disgrace to any any nation. Would any man submit to a representation which took away from him two-thirds of his property, his children and half of his rights as a thinking man. [Applause and "no, no."]

No man could represent a woman according to the meaning of the term representation—because he could not take upon himself

HER CHARACTER.

And consequently could not represent her.

It was not the good and true men who ruled the government, but the men who were brought up the scum of society.

If women could be made to read the laws of the land, in two years this right would be granted them—they would be voting. No woman could read in the Tribune such articles as

"WOMEN AND IDIOTS."

One of Horace Greeley's leaders and not have the blush of shame come to her cheek.

The question was a self-evident fact—no women were represented in the Government. She would like to see one good solid argument which would go to prove the contrary. [The speaker sat down and there was a sensation of delight among the hearers.]

None of the others had anything to say upon the question, although affectionately requested to speak their sentiments.

Mrs. Hindman deprecated the apathy apparent upon the matter, and exhorted the members to greater diligence in the cause.

Inspired by her remarks, Mrs. Smith (an aged lady in black, with a white bonnet) said: I deny that we are represented in the Government. If I was, I'd not have a grog shop at every corner. [Delighted applause.]

Mrs. Crain—I would like to call the attention of the Association to a circumstance which transpired in our midst a few days ago. A woman was judged worthy to lay a corner stone, and though she had the principal part of the performance she said nothing. Now is that not a proof that women can keep quiet? [Laughter.] You can take that as an argument or not in our favor. [Applause again, amid which the lady sat down.]

A RESOLUTION

Was now presented by Miss Jennie E. Smith for discussion at next meeting, which set forth that the present unjust rates paid to female teachers in proportion to males could only be adjusted by the ballot.

Mr. Caldwell—[arrayed with exquisite grace as usual,] took the floor in opposition to the resolution, and premised his remarks by stating that he had not joined the Association as had been said to but because he had the interest of Woman Suffrage at heart. He affirmed his opinion that the best method of treating this question was to argue the abstract right of women to vote—all else would follow.

Miss Crain reminded the gentleman that the castle could not always be taken by a direct assault, but the moat must first be secured, then the walls scaled, and then the castle surrenders.

Mr. Whitman thought female suffrage the question. He felt that the resolution as presented was not apropos to the object of the Association.

Mrs. Crain was glad to observe that the Government had made some advancement, and hereafter would pay to its females the same rates as its male employes.

A lady in black suggested that as the women as yet were servants it was well enough to remember their places. She opposed a class arrangement of the Association as this resolution was intended.

Mr. Caldwell compromised by offering an amendment that "woman is entitled to equal rights with man in the affairs of the Government."

Rejected by the Chair as a substitute for the original.

The original resolution was then voted down.

Miss Hindman, Miss Crain and Mr. Caldwell then offered the following resolutions:

"Resolved, That woman is entitled to equal rights and privileges with man," was at last adopted.

A youth in black broadcloth, radiant green necktie, and hair parted in the center announced himself as a

MEMBER OF THE NATIONAL ASSOCIATION

and expressed a great desire to unite with an auxiliary association. He was allowed the pleasure of paying a dollar into the Treasury.

The President announced that W. C. Moreland, Esq., had kindly consented to deliver an address at the next meeting. She also announced as the evening essayists Mrs. G. W. Spencer and Mr. J. M. Caldwell.

A motion was made to limit the essays to ten minutes.

The youth who had occupied half an hour waxed wrothy at the suggestion, and contended that thirty minutes was not too much.

Mr. Caldwell thought if the members were allowed to say so much in one meeting, that they would not come back as they would have nothing more to say. [Laughter.]

Some pleasant parliamentary practice passed away some time agreeably, when the motion was voted down.

Miss Jennie Hindman made an appeal in behalf of

THE WOMANS' JOURNAL,

and suggested the propriety of getting up a club of subscriptions for that valuable periodical.

Miss Crain said the Executive Committee had procured a new hall, which they thought would much better suit them than the Fourth ward school house. The matter was left in the hands of the Executive Committee.

The President announced the next meeting of the Association for the last Thursday in July.

Adjourned.

The horse does nearly all the work and it can be run backward without danger to rake or driver, an advantage in no other rake. PLANING MILL MEN

And Others,

TAKE NOTICE!

The undersigned has letters patent of the United States for the improved construction of weather-boarding, inside lining and of wainscoting for houses. The weather-boarding, by this patent improvement, being more particularly intended for vertical use, and combines great durability and beauty of appearance; and it is so constructed as to entirely avoid the use of joint strips, and to prevent water from entering the joints by the gaping or the showing of the joints by the action of the weather on the timber.

Inside lining and wainscoting by this new method are so constructed as to form perfect panels as cheaply as by the ordinary flooring boards alone; thereby preventing the showing of the joints from any cause, and leaving no refuges for bugs.

He has also purchased the patent right of what is commonly known as the "Moulded Weather-boarding."

He has disposed of the following territorial and shop rights in Allegheny county, for both patents, to wit:

To G. A. Mundorff, the right of the territory south of the river in said county.

To McQuewan & Douglass, the right for the First ward, Pittsburgh.

To Hill, Patterson & Co., shop rights for their mill, Sixth ward, Pittsburgh.

To Alex. McClure, for the borough of McKeesport.

To Parker & Paul, for First, Second, Third and Fourth wards, city of Allegheny.

To Reed Brothers, shop right at their mill in Seventh ward, city of Allegheny.

To Dunham, Saint & Co., for the boroughs of Sharpsburg and Etna; also the townships of Shaler and Indiana.

All persons are warned against infringing upon either of said patents, and those wishing to purchase will please call, or address me, at No. 75 Smithfield street, Pittsburgh, Pa.
